Descendants of Capt. Humphrey Underhill

First Generation

1 HUMPHREY UNDERHILL, son of Humphrey and —— (Hall) Underhill, was born before Feb. 25, 1632/3, the date of his grandfather's will, who was buried in Whitchurch, England. Humphrey married in Jamaica, Long Island, N. Y., Sarah Smith, widow, and died in Rye, N. Y., in 1722.

Issue:

+ 2 Elizabeth.

3 Mary, married Samuel Hunt. Deeds in White Plains, N. Y., Liber C., p. 337, dated June 20, 1704, show that Humphrey Underhill and his wife, Sarah, of Rye, N. Y., convey land to their son-in-law and his wife, their daughter, namely Samuel and Mary Hunt.

+ 4 Sarah.

+ 5 Hannah.

It is very evident from the notes which follow that Humphrey Underhill and his sister, Mary, came to New Amsterdam at the invitation of their uncle, Thomas Hall.

The Halls of New England state that said Thomas was from Massachusetts; Trumbull states he was from Connecticut, but just prior to his being in New Amsterdam he certainly was of Virginia. All authorities agree that he was with George Holmes in Point Comfort (now Newport News), Va., when, in 1636, with Holmes in command, sixteen Englishmen seized the Dutch Fort Nassau on the Delaware. Thomas Hall deserted and fled to New Amsterdam, bringing the intelligence to Van Twiller, who sent an armed force, and re-captured the fort, bringing the English prisoners to New Amsterdam.

George Holmes, on Aug. 4, 1635, was given 150 acres in James County, Va., for his personal venture into the Colony, fifty acres being for himself, fifty for his wife and fifty for his servant, Thomas Browne.

(Patent, Lane Office, Richmond, Va., Vol. 1, p. 269.) This statement is made to counteract the one in print stating that his servant was Thomas Hall. While later, Holmes had more servants, but they are named and Hall does not appear among them.

On July 17, 1638, Thomas Hall and George Holmes gave a note to Wouter Van Twiller in a tobacco transaction and continued close friends until the death of Holmes, when Hall became one of the guardians of his children.

On Nov. 15, 1639, George Holmes and Thomas Hall received a patent for land at Deutel Bay, New Amsterdam. Hall shortly after sold his share to Holmes but continued to reside with him and in the early Dutch marriages, page 11, may be found the following: Thomas Hall from Gloucestershire and Anna "Mitford" from Bristol, widow of William Cuijck (Quick), married Nov. 17, 1641. On Nov. 20, 1642, he received a patent for land on the North River and from time to time other patents, the disposition of which has not been traced, and on Jan. 24, 1655, he purchased a plantation in Gravesend which he sold in 1657.

That he had a personal acquaintance with Capt. John Underhill cannot be questioned because he served as one of the Eight Men in New Amsterdam, the same as Capt. John and also as one of the Nine Men and it is quite impossible to believe that they did not know of their close family ties. Hall figures quite extensively in the Dutch records but there is no evidence of he being a military man. He left no issue, but the following from New York Wills, Vol. 1, p. 141, brings to light his connection with Humphrey and Mary Underhill: "In the name of God, Amen, know all men that on the 31st day of August, 1669, about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Anna Medford, widow of Thomas Hall, did appear before me, Nicholas Bayard, Esq., Secretary of the Worshipful Mayor's Court, being sickly and weak in body." She leaves all her estate to the two cousins (nephew and niece) of her deceased husband, Humphrey Underhill and Mary Underhill, wife of Richard Stites. She makes her negro man, Frans, free, on account of his true services and the desire of her late husband and gives him a small parcel of ground lying about the Great Kill on Manhattan Island. She names her executors, Cornelius Steenwyck, Johanes Van Brugh and John Lawrence, "old Alderman of the City." She was made the executrix of her husband's estate March 15, 1669/70. Her will was proven April 5, 1687, and on April 11, Humphrey Underhill was appointed administrator, as next of kin.

CHURCH IN CLIFFORD CHAMBERS, WARWICKSHIRE, ENGLAND

Before Oct. 24, 1689, Humphrey Underhill, with others, sold a house and lot in New York to Christopher Dean, probably being the property left him in the above will. (N. Y. Wills, Vol. 1, p. 199.)

Just when Humphrey and Mary Underhill came to New York has not been definitely determined, but the Dutch marriages show that it was prior to Feb. 14, 1666, when "Thomas Nayler from 'Assisin,' England, married Mary Underhill from Clifford in Gloucestershire and on April 13, 1667, they had a son, Thomas, baptized in the Dutch Church, said baptism being witnessed by Thomas Hall."

The Court Minutes of New Amsterdam, Vol. 6, p. 129, show that Mary Naylor testified regarding a debt of her deceased husband, Thomas Nayler, and that on May 14, 1668 (N. Y. Marriages), she had married Richard Stites.

Humphrey Underhill was in Jamaica, L. I., on Dec. 20, 1669, when he witnessed a conveyance of land from John Everitt to John Rodes (Town Records of Jamaica, Vol. 1, p. 267). In 1671, he was appointed a fence viewer. (Ibid, p. 106.) July 3, 1673, he was to keep the pound. (Ibid, p. 50.) May 9, 1674, he refused to contribute to the maintenance of a minister. (Mss. owned by Long Island Hist. Society, Westbury Friends Meeting, etc., p. 162.)

On Sept. 14, 1675, Humphrey Underhill sold his dwelling house, orchard, garden and home lot, with twenty acres of upland, with half his meadow, in all about twenty acres, to John Rowlesson. It to be equally divided and "John to have his choice," etc. There is nothing on record to show from whom he purchased this property and there is strong suggestive evidence, that it belonged to his wife, who may have been a sister of the above John Rowlesson, who was a Dutch shoemaker.

The last mention made of Humphrey Underhill in Jamaica, L. I., is April 6, 1676, when he sold Daniel Whitehead all his rights in the "commonage meadows at the further last neck, not divided nor laid out." This deed was not recorded until Oct. 23, 1688, and may be found in Liber P of Deeds, Jamaica, p. 30.

He is next noted in Rye, N. Y., where in 1681 he engaged to pay seven hundred pounds for the Vineyard Farm there, payment to be made in provisions. (Baird's History of Rye, p. 130.)

In 1689 he purchased a 14 years old negro boy from James Mott of Mamaroneck.

In Liber B, page 60, of Deeds, in White Plains, under date of March 17, 1689, it is stated that Humphrey Underhill represented Rye at a meeting in Westchester, held to send representatives for the County of Westchester to New York.

The home of Humphrey Underhill in Westchester County was on the west side of the Mamaroneck River, some distance north of the North Street Road. His house was one of the first erected in White Plains, probably before 1694, as in October of that year, Ann Richbell procured a warrant from the Governor to survey the eastermost bounds of her lands. The surveyor, Augustin Graham, proceeded along the west bank of the Mamaroneck River, until he came to the "improved land claimed by Humphrey Underhill, where the said Underhill, with three others, with guns, stones and slaves, did obstruct the execution of his Excellency's Warrant."

Scharf, in his History of Westchester Co., N. Y., Vol. 1, p. 722, states that Humphrey Underhill was a man of high standing in the estimation of his townsmen.

The New York Civil List in a note on page 348 conveys the fact that Humphrey Underhill of Westchester County was elected to the Fifth Assembly about 1696, but was excluded April 1, 1697, for refusing to attend before he had his money and that Joseph Theall was elected in his place; but Baird, on p. 94, states that at a meeting of the General Court of Rye, held May 13, 1697, Humphrey Underhill "took his seat as a Deputy," and that in Oct., 1698, Capt. Humphrey Underhill "was sent to the Court."

The Colonial Records of Connecticut, 1689-1706, p. 83, show that at a meeting of the General Court held at Hartford, Oct. 13, 1692, Humphrey Underhill of Rye was granted pay for his expense in attending said Court and on page 197, Mr. Humphrey Underhill represented Rye (then under the jurisdiction of Connecticut) at the Court of Elections held in Hartford, May 13, 1697, and on page 265 "Capt. Humphrey Underhill" represented Rye at a General Court held in Hartford, Oct. 13, 1698. When and where he received the title of "Captain" has not been found but the Colonial Records stating that fact as well as the Town Records of Rye, gives ample proof of his right to it.

He sold his lot in the first division of White Plains (on the east side of White Plains Street, which he had purchased from Isaac and Anna Odell of Eastchester) to James Travis in 1705 and settled on his large tract of land in the extreme southern part of "The Patent" and deeded a part of the same to Samuel Hunt, his son-in-law, and it appears from the land records that he was to build a mill and Samuel Hunt was to grind the town's corn. (N. Y. Record, Vol. 49, p. 173.)

WINCOT, CLIFFORD CHAMBERS, ENGLAND
(Vol. IV, pages 5, 6)

No record has been found to date regarding the wife of Humphrey Underhill. That he married Sarah, widow of one of the Jamaica Smiths, is generally conceded. His will mentions wife Sarah and her son Benjamin Smith. Abraham Smith of Rye purchased land of Samuel Odell in 1700, on the west side of what is now Broadway, White Plains, N. Y., and in 1705, he purchased land next to it and the deed was witnessed by Humphrey Underhill. Their names appear together on the land records of Jamaica. In 1712 Humphrey Underhill complained that the estate of Abraham Smith of White Plains, since Anna, his widow, had married Arnold Bassett and deceased, was "going to decay and that said Arnold is endeavoring to destroy it, wherein the orphans will be much wronged." The court ordered that Underhill, Caleb Hiat and Samuel Purdy make an inventory for the benefit of the orphans. Underhill moved the children be bound out, etc. The oldest was named Abraham and was to live with his uncle, George Lane. In 1714, Elizabeth Odell, demanded her portion of the estate, as daughter of Abraham Smith. (N. Y. Record, Vol. 49, p. 171.)

The above shows by interest taken by Humphrey Underhill in the estate of Abraham Smith, a very close connection, yet unsolved.

Humphrey Underhill made his will in Rye, N. Y., July 3, 1722, which was proven Oct. 22, 1722, and recorded in New York published wills, Vol. 2, pp. 258, 259. He leaves his wife Sarah all his estate for life and mentions the following heirs: daughter, Elizabeth, wife of Samuel Merritt; daughter, Mary, wife of Samuel Hunt, grandchildren, Underhill, Thomas and William Barnes, Sarah, Hannah and Elizabeth Clarke; daughters, Sarah Budd and Elizabeth Merritt; grandson, Underhill Budd; wife's son, Benjamin Smith. Executors, wife, Sarah, Samuel Merritt and Jonathan Haight. Witnesses: Jonathan Smith, Jonathan Purdy and John Carhart.

As Humphrey Underhill left no male descendants his property in White Plains passed into the hands of his grandson, Underhill Budd.

"Clifford Chambers in Gloucestershire is within two miles of Stratford-on-Avon and Whitchurch is about five miles distant and Humphrey, father of Humphrey of Jamaica, was of Clifford Chambers and baptized at Whitchurch.

"If Humphrey Underhill's mother should prove to be a sister of Dr. John Hall of Stratford-on-Avon, he would be a nephew of Shakespeare's elder daughter."—(J. H. Morrison.)

In a deposition of 1641 made by Humphrey Underhill, father of Humphrey of Jamaica, Long Island, N. Y., he called himself of

"Wincott," County Gloucester. In a letter from the present owner of Wincot, Mr. J. C. Cook, dated Wincot, Clifford Chambers, Stratford-on-Avon, May 23, 1930, he says: "My house has been modernized. This took place about 40 or 50 years ago. It originally stood partly in the parish of Clifford Chambers and partly in Quinton, but is now wholly in Clifford. It is said "The Taming of the Shrew" was first performed in the greater Hall which had at that time a spiral oak staircase with a bell top tower, which was removed at the renovation.

"You will find it attended to in the opening passages of that play as Marian Hackett, the fat ale wife of Wincot; the late librarian of Shakespeare's Library at Stratford, Mr. Savage, informed me that when searching the old Registers at Quinton he came upon the death and burial of Marian Hackett." (Letter written to D. Harris Underhill.)

SECOND GENERATION

2 ELIZABETH UNDERHILL, daughter of (1) Humphrey and Sarah (———) Underhill, married Samuel, son of Thomas Merritt, who was mentioned in Rye, N. Y., in 1706.

Issue (Merritt):

6 William.
\+ 7 George, born 1702.
8 David.

Samuel Merritt lived in White Plains, N. Y., in 1710 and in 1713 purchased land there from John Boyd; granted a lot to Humphrey Underhill who released his claim May 29, 1722. (Thomas Merritt of Rye by Douglas Merritt.)

The Calendar of Wills, page 259, shows that Humphrey Underhill was the grandfather of George Merritt, through the latter's mother, a daughter of said Humphrey.

4 SARAH UNDERHILL, daughter of (1) Humphrey and Sarah (———) Underhill, married Oct. 11, 1695, Joseph, born 1658, Southold, L. I., son of John and Mary (Horton) Budd. His father, John, who died in 1684, left him "all my right and interest in a neck of land in Westchester, which lieth between Blind Brook and Mamaroneck River and an Island of meadow belonging thereto and all my housing and improvements on said land."

CHURCH IN QUINTON, WARWICKSHIRE, ENGLAND
(Vol. IV, page 6)

Issue (Budd) order not known:

+ 9 John.
+ 10 Joseph, born 1702.
+ 11 Elisha, born 1705.
+ 12 Underhill, born 1708.
13 Gilbert.
14 Hannah, married a Palmer.
+ 15 Sarah, born 1711.
16 Anne.
17 Tamar.
18 Mary, married an Underhill.

Joseph Budd, of Rye, N. Y., made his will May 27, 1722, which was proven June 28, 1722. He mentions: wife, Sarah; son, John, under 30 years; sons, Joseph, Elisha, Underhill and Gilbert, none of age; daughters, Hannah Palmer, Sarah, Anne, Tamar, Mary; executors, wife, Sarah, John Stevenson and Samuel Purdy. Witnesses: David Ogden, Daniel Purdy, William Foster. (N. Y. Pub. Wills, Vol. 2, pp. 251-252.)

The will indicates that he was a large land owner. His sons, Joseph and Elisha, inherited his rights in the White Plains Patent and his son Underhill, inherited the rights of his grandfather, Humphrey Underhill.

At a hearing regarding the petition of John Harrison for a patent, Jan. 24, 1695/6; at the same time Humphrey Underhill appeared in behalf of Joseph Budd, son and heir to John Budd, deceased, producing an Indian deed granted to John Budd of Southold, dated 8 of Dec., 1661. (Land Records, Westchester Co., N. Y., Liber B, p. 260.)

5 HANNAH UNDERHILL, daughter of (1) Humphrey and Sarah (———) Underhill, married William, son of Joshua Barnes of Southampton, L. I. He removed to Westchester County about 1684. She married second, before Oct. 5, 1703, Daniel Clarke of Westchester town.

Issue (by Town Records) (Barnes):

19 Sarah, born Aug. 4, 1692.
20 Underhill, born March 14, 1694.
21 Thomas, born Oct. 3, 1697.
22 William.

Issue (Clarke):

23 Elizabeth, married a Ferriss.

24 Sarah, married a Hinchman.
25 Hannah.

The Census of 1698 of Westchester, shows that Wm. Barnes, wife Hannah and children Sarah, Underhill and Thomas, with four slaves, were residing there.

At a special court held in Westchester, N. Y., May 5, 1712: "Came before us, Underhill Barnes, a minor about 17 years of age, son and heir of William Barnes of Westchester, Esq., deceased, and Hannah, his wife, which said Hannah since the death of said William, married one Daniel Clarke of Westchester, gent., and the said Hannah is also now lately dead, therefore the said Underhill prays to be admitted to his guardian and hath nominated and chosen the said Daniel Clark, his father-in-law (step-father) and Joseph Budd, of Rye, Esq., his uncle, to be his guardians." (Liber D, p. 19, Land Records. First half, Court Records.)

The New York published wills, Vol. 3, p. 148, states that Daniel Clarke, of Westchester, died leaving a will dated Jan. 21, 1727, and made John Stephenson, John Ferriss and Caleb Heathcote, executors, "all of whom are now dead and Letters of Administration upon his remaining estate are granted May 24, 1734, to Elizabeth Ferriss and Sarah Hinchman, two of his daughters."

THIRD GENERATION

7 GEORGE MERRITT, son of Samuel and (2) Elizabeth (Underhill) Merritt, was born in 1702 and in 1747 was residing in Newburgh, N. Y. He married Gloriana, daughter of Samuel and Penelope (Harvey) Purdy, and died Feb. 2, 1759. His will, dated Jan. 25, 1759, in the Highlands, Ulster Co., N. Y., was proven March 23, that same year. (Calendar of Wills, p. 259.)

Issue (Merritt) order not known:

26 George.
27 Samuel, married Phila Townsend and died Dec. 26, 1811.
28 Caleb, born in July, 1735, married Martha Purdy, and died Nov. 29, 1793.
29 Gabriel, died 1776.

30 David, married Ann Purdy and Rachel Sherwood, and died March 12, 1817.

+ 31 Humphrey, born May 17, 1737.

32 Elizabeth, married Dr. David Fowler.

33 Jane, born Sept. 25, 1747, married Moses Flewelling and Elnathan Foster, and died March 2, 1807.

34 Gloriana, born 1740, married Joseph Morey of the Queen's Rangers and died in Canada in 1842.

9 JOHN BUDD, son of Joseph and (4) Sarah (Underhill) Budd, was born in 1690 and married Mary Prudence Strang, daughter of Daniel and Charlotte (Le Mestre) Strang, of New Rochelle, N. Y.

Issue (Budd):

35 Daniel, married a Purdy.

36 Elijah, married Ursula Sine.

37 Hannah, married Hackaliah Purdy.

38 Mary, married Caleb Horton.

39 Joseph, born 1732, married Sarah Fowler and had Tamar, born July 25, 1763, died Aug. 26, 1826; married Joseph Hart, born 1756, and had Clara.

One Clara, daughter of Allen Hart, resided in Normal, Ill., in 1920, as the wife of Thomas Kennedy and claimed descent from Joseph and Sarah. (See New York Record, vol. 54, p. 266.)

10 JOSEPH BUDD, son of Joseph and (4) Sarah (Underhill) Budd, was born in 1702, married Anne, maiden name not found, who survived him. He died in Cortlandt Manor, N. Y., in 1763.

Issue (Budd):

40 Joseph.

41 Nicholas.

42 Underhill.

+ 43 Sarah, married Samuel Dusenbury, Jr., and Joseph Gue.

In "A roll of his Majesty's Fourth Company of Militia in the Upper Battalion in the County of Westchester, whereof William Willet, Esq., is Colonel, James Ver Planck, Lieutenant Colonel and Pierre Van Cortlandt, Major," is listed Underhill Budd, 1760. No doubt this refers to the above Underhill Budd, No. 42.

Joseph Budd of Cortlandt Manor, N. Y., made his will Sept. 18, 1761, which was proven May 2, 1763, in which he mentions wife, Anne; oldest son, Joseph; sons Nicholas and Underhill; granddaughter, Nancy Dusenbury, not 18 years. Mentions household goods in care and possession of John Gue. (N. Y. Wills, vol. 6, p. 234.)

Anne Budd, of Cortlandt Manor, N. Y., made her will June 21, 1763, which was proven Aug. 3, 1763, in which she names her oldest son, Joseph; daughter Sarah, wife of Joseph Gue, of Dutchess Co., N. Y.; granddaughter, Nancy Dusenbury; sons Nicholas and Underhill Budd. (Ibid., p. 256.)

11 ELISHA BUDD, son of Joseph and (4) Sarah (Underhill) Budd, was born in 1705 and married Anne, daughter of Joseph and Sarah Lyons of Rye, N. Y. He was made executor of his father-in-law's will 1752, which was proven March 12, 1761.

Issue (Budd):

44 Jonathan.

12 UNDERHILL BUDD, son of Joseph and (4) Sarah (Underhill) Budd, died 1755. His wife, Sarah, died Aug. 19, 1798, aged 88 years. He married, Sept. 17, 1730, Sarah, born Sept. 17, 1710, Westchester, N. Y., daughter of Capt. Henry Fowler, of Mamaroneck.

Issue (Budd):

45 Gilbert.

46 Sarah, married Andrew Lyon.

47 Tamar.

48 Mary, died aged 10 years.

Underhill Budd made his will in Mamaroneck, N. Y., May 10, 1755, which was proven May 31, 1755, and recorded in New York published wills, vol. 5, p. 71. He mentions wife, Sarah; son, Gilbert, not 21; daughter Sarah, wife of Andrew Lyon; daughters Tamar and Mary Budd, the latter not 18. Executors, wife, Sarah, and Capt. John Gedney, of Scarsdale. Witnesses: James Horton, I. Wetmore, Anne Griffin.

15 SARAH BUDD, daughter of Joseph and (4) Sarah (Underhill) Budd, was born Oct. 19, 1711, and died in Rye, N. Y., Oct. 19, 1752. She married James, born about 1703, died 1783, son of John Horton, of Rye. They lived on a part of his father's estate in Rye Neck.

Issue (Horton):

49 James.
50 Gilbert Budd, died 1782.
51 Elijah.
52 Tamar, married Maurice Salts.
53 Underhill, married Jan. 21, 1763, Susanna Cranford, and died intestate in 1764.
54 Silvanus.
55 Mary.

FOURTH GENERATION

31 HUMPHREY MERRITT, son of (7) George and Gloriana (Purdy) Merritt, was born May 17, 1737. Name of wife not given and not diligently sought for by the editor.

Issue (Merritt):

56 Gloriana.
57 Mary.
58 Underhill, born Feb. 7, 1769, died Nov. 19, 1804.
59 Caleb.
60 Charlotte, married a Roe.
+ 61 Morris, born Oct. 10, 1774.

43 SARAH BUDD, daughter of (10) Joseph and Anne (———) Budd, married Samuel Dusenbury, of Cortlandt Manor, N. Y. He was a storekeeper and made his will there Feb. 7, 1757, which was proven Feb. 16, 1757, and made William Dusenbury, Sr., of North Castle, and Joseph Budd, Jr., of Cortlandt Manor, executors. He mentions wife, Sarah, and children named below. (N. Y. Wills, vol. 5, p. 155). Sarah married, second, before June 21, 1763, Joseph Gue.

Issue (Dusenbury):

62 Gilbert Budd.
63 Samuel Denton.
+ 64 Nancy.

FIFTH GENERATION

61 MORRIS MERRITT, son of (31) Humphrey and ——— (?) Merritt, was born Oct. 10, 1774, and resided in Marlborough, N. Y., in 1807, and died Aug. 11, 1829. He married Jan. 24, 1801, Nancy, daughter of Justus and Naomi (Felter) Rogers, of that town.

Issue (Merritt):

+ 65 Rebecca, born 1802.

66 Underhill, born Feb. 14, 1804, died 1830.

67 Caleb, born Dec. 5, 1805, married July 31, 1828, Henrietta Houghtaling, and died March 5, 1893. Eleven children.

68 Eliza, born Sept. 1, 1806, married April 15, 1829, Wm. Osborne; second, Egbert Elmendorf, and died Aug. 25, 1882. Two children.

69 Justus, born Oct. 28, 1812, married Nov. 9, 1837, Mary A. Krum, and died June 5, 1847. Three children.

Descendants of Sampson Underhill

First Generation

(See pages 43–48, Vol. 2)

1 SAMPSON UNDERHILL, ancestry unknown, was born about 1692 and was married in Salisbury, Mass., Jan. 15, 1717/18, by Rev. Caleb Cushing, to Elizabeth, born there, Oct. 2, 1698, daughter of Nathaniel and Sarah (Eastman) Ambrose. He removed to Chester, N. H., where he died between Dec. 16, 1731, and March 27, 1732, and between 1742 and 1745, his wife married second, Benjamin Batchelder.

Issue:

+ 2 John, born March 16, 1720/1.
3 Jeremiah, born Dec. 29, 1724.
+ 4 Moses, born 1726.
+ 5 Hezekiah, born Sept. 17, 1727.

Practically all descendants of Sampson Underhill claim Capt. John Underhill as his ancestor, but diligent research does not reveal the connection, but certain it is that Sampson did not descend from the fictitious Benoni Underhill as per Vol. 2 of this publication.

If Sampson descended from Capt. John he would have had to have been his grandson, but as Capt. John had left the neighborhood of New Hampshire and Boston and was residing in Stamford, Conn., prior to Oct., 1642, and as extensive research does not reveal that he ever returned to his former abiding places, his children at that period were too young to have been left behind in so hostile a neighborhood and the period of his stay too short in New Hampshire for any attachment to arise from it, to make them return.

Sampson Underhill does not appear in any public document, now available, until Jan. 7, 1716/17, and that he married shortly after is indicative of youth, certainly not of age. That he was purchasing land and selling it from that time until his death also indicates that he was a person of some means, but if he acquired it through inheritance in this country, there certainly would be some record of it, either in Massachusetts or New Hampshire but careful consideration has been given this phase of the matter with no favorable result and as Charles Bell, who wrote the History of Chester, N. H., in 1863, distinctly states that Sampson Underhill was born in England and emigrated to Ipswich, he must have had some foundation for making it and it is only fair to consider it correct and accept it until proven otherwise.

The first mention of Samson Underhill to date is found in Essex County, Mass., conveyances, when on Jan. 7, 1716/17, he, styled clothier, purchased from Ebenezer Hackett of Salisbury, Mass., cordwainer, for 105 pounds, his homestead and about 35 acres of land in Salisbury, and had for his neighbors, Robert Carr, James Purrington and Jacob Bradbury. This sale was agreed to by Hackett's wife, Hannah, and acknowledged May 9, 1717. (Liber 28, p. 281.)

On May 8, 1717, he sold the above property to Jacob Bradbury, retaining four acres, which included the dwelling house, barn and orchard. The description of its boundaries about the same, excepting he adds the name of Nathaniel Ambrose as a neighbor. (Liber 28, p. 379.) On Sept. 30, 1717, he conveyed the four acres to Thomas Flanders. (Liber 67, p. 104.)

The Archives of the State of New Hampshire, the originals of which are now deposited in the New Hampshire Historical Society, show that on April 3, 1717, Samson, of Salisbury, Mass., conveyed to Samuel Smith of Haverhill, Mass., his right in the common land in Kingston, New Hampshire, which is certainly convincing that he must have been in Kingston before residing in Salisbury (Vol. 13, p. 247).

Also in Vol. 10, p. 131, on Nov. 28, 1717, Samson Underhill, of Salisbury, Mass., received land and buildings in Hampton, N. H., from James and Mary Hall of that place, indicating contemplated removal, but on June 14, 1720, the Essex County Conveyances, Liber 38, p. 92, show that he was still in Salisbury, as he and his wife, Elizabeth, convey eleven acres there to William Dannels, tanner, and on Dec. 10, 1722, he purchased five acres in Salisbury from Jacob Hook, in the "Cow Common so called," bounded on the north by his own land. (Liber 44, p. 217). He sold this property Sept. 6, 1723, to Samuel Fowler, "late of Amesbury, now of Salisbury." (Liber 51, p. 88.)

On Jan. 2, 1723/4, the New Hampshire Conveyances (Vol. 14, p. 229), state that Samson and Elizabeth Underhill of Salisbury, Mass., convey to Nicholas Perryman, shopkeeper of Exeter, N. H., all their right or equity that he should have in the estate of Daniel Leavitt, late of Exeter, conveyed Dec. 12, 1723, by Edward West and wife, Alice, of Hampton. This deed certainly suggests a relationship to the Leavitt family, but a search, quite exhaustive, failed to discover any connection.

Sept. 21, 1726, Sampson Underhill, of Salisbury, conveys to Gideon Counn (?) all his right, etc., that he has or ought to have in the real and personal estate which he bought of Cornelius "Couer," deceased, which was his and part his mother's, Elizabeth Couer, her third, as widow of John Couer. (Liber 50, p. 67.)

The manuscript of H. B. Underhill of Bellows Falls, Vt., states that "on April 1, 1730, Sampson Underhill sold his farm of fifty acres in Salisbury, Mass., upon which he had lived and kept tavern, for 500 pounds and went to Chester, N. H., where he bought Lot No. 28 and settled. This lot was situated on the south side of the road nearly opposite the present location of the Congregational Church and on the main street of the village as it now is.

"In those early days there were nothing but cart paths for roads, but in 1739, the town surveyed out a highway ten rods wide for the main street. This roadway threw his house and barns into the highway, as well as the old church that stood nearly opposite, a little to the northeast. This road was called the Ten-rod-way. Later the town sold back to the abuttors on the south side, five rods of this Ten-rod-way which straightened matters on that side of the road."

Nathaniel Ambross, on Dec. 20, 1724, of Salisbury, Mass., sold to Samson Underhill certain land in that place "situated near ye province line between Massachusetts and New Hampshire, which my father, Henry Ambross, lived upon and died seized of," consisting of 24 acres, with dwelling house, "bounded easterly by land of Benjamin Gill; to enjoy after the death of my mother, Susanna Ambross—lease to said Underhill the farm during the life of his said mother Susanna." (Liber 47, p. 263.)

On June 26, 1727, Samson Underhill, of Salisbury, conveyed to Samuel Hutchins, of the same place, a farm there, near the Province Line between Massachusetts and New Hampshire which formerly belonged to Mr. Henry Ambross, "saving the old home in which said Henry lived." This was acknowledged Jan. 3, 1727/8, in the Province of New Hampshire. (Liber 54, p. 42.)

Nov. 1, 1725, Samson Underhill, clothier, of Salisbury, conveyed for 80 pounds, to John Webster and Ephraim Eaton, of the same place, &c., "which money the said Webster and Eaton (hired of the Rev. Mr.

Theophilus Cotton of Hampton) stand bound for the payment of same which money the said Underhill received for his use"—convey "my homestead land where I now dwell in Salisbury." (Liber 47, p. 264.)

March 27, 1730, Samson Underhill, of Salisbury, alias Hampton, purchased land in Chester of Peter Weare of Hampton. (N. H. Archives, Vol. 21, p. 322.)

Sept. 28, 1731, Samson of Chester, N. H., conveys to Page Bachelder, land there. (Ibid., Vol. 51, p. 364.)

March 27, 1732, shows that Samson Underhill was deceased, for on that date, Elizabeth, his widow, and of Chester, received land there from William Powell. (Ibid., Vol. 29, p. 146.)

The probate records of the Province of New Hampshire, Vol. 2, 1718-1740, show that Elizabeth Underhill, on May 15, 1732, was appointed administratrix of the estate of her husband, Sampson Underhill. Vol. 13, p. 194: Bond of Elizabeth Underhill, with Jacob Stanyan and Joseph Norton, both of Hampton, N. H., as sureties, May 15, 1732, for the administration of her husband's estate. Inventory, May 13, 1732, by Jacob Sargent and Samuel, shows value of estate as 483 pounds, 19s, 6d.

In the settlement, Aug. 25, 1742, expenses asked for and allowed are mentioned: "to bringing up a son named Hezekiah for 4½ years; to bringing up another son named Moses for 6½ years; to the maintaining, supporting and clothing a sick son named Jeremiah for ten years as he having fits, in one of them fell into the fire and burned his hand so that it is useless." On Aug. 25, 1742, the executors were licensed to sell the real estate.

Nathaniel Ambrose made his will in Chester, N. H., June 3, 1745, which was proven, June 26, 1745, and is recorded in the State Papers of N. H., Vol. 33, Probate Records, 1741-1749, pp. 268-9. He names wife, Lydia (second); sons Henry and John; daughters, Elizabeth Batchelder, Abigail Prescut; granddaughters, Sarah, Abigail and Agnes Veasey; son-in-law, Thomas Veasey of Stratham, whom he makes his executor. Witnesses: Moses Leavit, George Veasey, Jr., Elizabeth Cotton.

Nathaniel Ambrose was born in Salisbury, Mass., Dec. 14, 1677, and married there, first, in Dec., 1697, Sarah Eastman.

Notes from the Court Files in the library of the New Hampshire Historical Society in Concord, N. H., No. 12216: Suit on note made by Jacob Stanyan, of Hampton, to Elizabeth Underhill, of Chester, dated Nov. 29, 1732.

No. 11560: "John Yeamans of the Parish of Saint James in our City of Westminster in the County of Middlesex, within our Kingdom of Great Britain, before our Justices of our Inferior Court of Common Pleas, holden at Portsmouth, within the Province of New Hampshire, on the 7 day of Sept. last, reserved judgment for and title and possession of a home lott consisting of 20 acres in Chester," etc., against Elizabeth Underhill of Chester, widow, who has illegally withheld it, etc. Judgment for the plaintiff, Jan. 10, 1738.

No. 18281: The signature of Sampson Underhill may be seen.

No. 19691: Summons against Elizabeth Underhill of Chester, widow, adm. of estate of Sampson Underhill. This is dated June 6, 1731, which must be a clerical error as other notes will show.

No. 10569: Summons against Elizabeth Underhill of Chester, as Administratrix of her husband's estate, July 8, 1742.

No. 20608: Letter from Samson Underhill, dated Chester, Dec. 7, 1731, as follows:

Servant to command,

"SAMSON UNDERHILL."

The writ attached to the letter is dated Oct. 5, 1731, and was served Nov. 23, 1731, which states he was a clothier, "late of Hampton, but now of Chester."

Liber D, 58, p. 302: Elizabeth wife of Sampson Underhill and Henry and John Ambross, all children and heirs of their father, Nathaniel Ambross, of Salisbury, Essex County, Mass., by his wife, Sarah, the daughter of Mr. Nathaniel Eastman of Salisbury, quit-claim all interest they had in land in Salisbury, about 1½ lot which was reserved by "our grandfather, Nathaniel Eastman" "for our father, Nathaniel Ambross, and on which our said father now lives." Dated ——— 20, 1730. Ack. Nov. 23, 1730.

Liber D, 58, p. 303: Abijah Ambross and Sarah Ambross, children of Nathaniel Ambross by his wife Sarah, daughter of Nathaniel Eastman, also quit-claim to their father at the same time.

Liber 21, p. 322 of Deeds, shows that Samson Underhill on Jan. 17, 1730/1, acknowledged March 1, 1730/1, then of Hampton, N. H., made over to Henry Ambross of Salisbury, Mass., his right in land in Chester, N. H., "being part of original right" he purchased from Col. Peter Weare of Hampton "and not yet divided." The date of this purchase was March 27, 1730.

Liber 18, p. 59, April 1, 1730, Samson Underhill, of Salisbury, Mass., calling himself yeoman, conveys to Thomas Jennes of Rye, N. H., his farm of 50 acres in Salisbury, bounded as follows: "Eastwardly by land of Samuell Watson and Elihu Dow, southerly on a highway that leads to Greely's Mill, westerly on the Country Road and bounding southwest part by Israell Shepherd's land, bound northerly on Lane's Brook and northerly and westerly by land of Ebenezer Gove, Sr., and also the dwelling house being there, wherein the said Samson Underhill now lives and keeps tavern and also the barn being thereon and all the buildings thereon, fences, timber, wood and underwood, &c." Elizabeth, his wife, did not give her consent until Dec. 24, 1730.

Liber 18, p. 312, Nov. 15, 1731, Samson Underhill, of Chester, N. H., clothier, conveyed 20 acres there, to John Shirla or Shirley, of Chester. Acknowledged by him and his wife Dec. 16, 1731, she signing by mark and recorded Feb. 22, 1731/2.

Docket No. 835, shows the warrant to apprize the estate of Sampson Underhill was dated May 15, 1732.

"There has been much speculation as to the real location of the grave of Samson Underhill. Some have it that he was buried just inside the wall of the present cemetery, others say that it is just outside the wall and sidewalk on the edge of the roadway about the point that I have indicated by an X. As a result of all this I have spent much time trying to locate the real location. I admit that I am not able to say that I am sure about the location, but by careful study of the records of Chester, and by a process of elimination I am sure that he was not buried in or about the present cemetery. (See under William H. Underhill of Woonsocket, R. I.)

"1st. The first church of Chester was built in 1730 and stood somewhere near where the old Liberty Pole was placed in later years. The old records state that Samson was buried back of this church.

"2nd. The present cemetery was a portion of the home lot of Samuel Blunt, and according to the old records we find that the Selectmen of Chester were trying to negotiate with Mr. Blunt in 1742, for this plot of land to be used for a burying-ground, but that they were not successful at that time. This would indicate that the Blunt property was not used for a burying-ground until a later date.

"3rd. In the early days of Chester up to 1738, the four roads indicated on my sketch were merely cart-paths and they formed a junction of four corners just as they do today, which would be the most likely place to locate the church. In 1738 a new survey of the roadway was made which made the road ten rods wide and was called the 'Ten Rod Way.' When the roadway was widened to this extra width, the house and barns of Samson Underhill were in the roadway, also the old Meeting-house. This would prove that Samson's buildings and the Meeting-house were somewhere near in a line. And, when the town decided later that this ten rod way was too elaborate for the town's need and made the roadway five rods wide as it is today, they sold back five rods to the abutors on the south side of the roadway which placed their buildings back on the original lots.

"I have had these facts before me for a long time and have given them much careful consideration and settled it in my own mind that it was reasonable to place the location of Samson's grave not a great ways south of where the old church stood, and in later years the old Liberty Pole. Later I became acquainted with William Harvey Underhill of Woonsocket, R. I., and I have some most interesting letters from him which help to confirm my own conclusions. In these letters he mentions his grandfather, William Plummer Underhill, b. 1817; d. 1885. The father of William Plummer was another William Harvey U., b. 1783, d. 1843. William Harvey's father was Samuel U., 1752, d. 1828, and this Samuel was a grandson of Samson. It is not stretching the imagination too much to believe that this Samuel knew where his grandfather was buried, and as the lives of these men mentioned above interlap from generation to generation by several years, it is not unreasonable to believe that this information was handed down from father to son, or even grandfather to grandson, which would only happen twice in this case to hand it down to my friend, William Harvey U.

"B. H. UNDERHILL."

SECOND GENERATION

2 JOHN UNDERHILL, son of (1) Sampson and Elizabeth (Ambrose) Underhill, was born in Salisbury, Mass., March 16, 1720/21, and was married by Rev. Flagg, in Chester, N. H., Oct. 21, 1741, to Joanna, born Hampton Falls, N. H., July 20, 1718, died

Chester, N. H., in Aug., 1809, daughter of William and Mary (Sanborn) Healey, of Hampton Falls until 1728, then of Chester. He died July 31, 1793.

Issue:

+ 6 Betty, born July 13, 1742.
+ 7 William, born Feb. 15, 1744.
+ 8 John, born June 20, 1745.
+ 9 Molly, born Dec. 4, 1747.
+ 10 Moses, born Feb. 2, 1749.
+ 11 David, born Sept. 9, 1751.
+ 12 Samuel, born May 5, 1752.
+ 13 Jeremiah, born Aug. 6, 1755.
+ 14 Sarah, born May 20, 1759.
15 Joanna, married Moses Preston, born 1764, and moved west.

John Underhill, gentleman, made his will in Chester, N. H., Sept. 15, 1785, which was proven Aug. 21, 1793, and is recorded in Exeter, N. H., under No. 5922. He names his daughters, Betty Buswell, Molly Pearce, Sarah Underhill, Joanna Presson, and his sons, Moses, John, Jeremiah, David, Samuel, and grandson, Stephen Underhill. Executors: Sons, David and Samuel. Witnesses: Thomas Sargeant, John Manning, Josiah Flagg.

William Healy, of Chester, N. H., weaver, made his will there July 10, 1767, which was proven May 27, 1772, and is recorded in Exeter, N. H., No. 3934. He mentions his wife, Mary, sons, Samuel and Paul and daughters, Phebe Sargent, Joanna Underhill, Mary Clifford, Dorothy Wells, Sarah Clifford and Hannah Presson; granddaughter, Mehitebell Helay. Executor: Son, Paul.

Liber 113, p. 385 of Deeds, Rockingham County, N. H., shows that on Sept. 17, 1766, John Underhill, gentleman, of Chester, N. H., for love and affection, conveyed to his son, William, husbandman, of Candia, certain land.

Liber 139, pp. 99, 100, shows conveyance of land to son Jeremiah, May 19, 1773, and Jan. 3, 1785.

Liber 151, p. 287, John Frye, Jr., and wife, Lydia, of Andover, Mass., quit-claim to Robert Wilson, Esq., and John Underhill gentleman, of Chester, 1/7 part of real estate "of our grandfather, Benjamin Batchelder, late of Chester, deceased," May 16, 1782. This deed shows quite conclusively that Elizabeth (Ambrose) Underhill, wife first of Sampson Underhill and second of Benjamin Batchelder, was then deceased.

John Underhill, Robert Wilson and John Wilson, Jr., all of Chester, N. H., convey to Hannah Sargent, part of the 20 acres which Benjamin Bachelder died possessed of (which was laid out to John Fry and his wife Lydia) and of John Prescott Bachelder, Benjamin Bachelder and Jonathan Bachelder, which we," the first three named, "bought of said heirs," May 10, 1785. (Deeds 127, p. 170.)

The State Papers of New Hampshire, Revolutionary Rolls, Vol. 2, p. 167, state the John Underhill was a Corporal under Capt. Stephen Dearborn in General Stark's Brigade which marched from Chester, N. H., and joined the Northern Continental Army, 1777. He enlisted Aug. 21, 1777; discharged Sept. 28, 1777.

P. 168. Corporal John Underhill of Rumals Co. of Foot from New Hampshire, in service of the U. S. A., stationed on the western frontier under command of Major Whitcomb. Appointed July 10, 1780, for 6 months.

Descendants of John Underhill who have joined the D. A. R. may be found in the latter's publications, Vol. 6, p. 52; Vol. 26, p. 248; Vol. 27, p. 294; Vol. 32, p. 226; Vol. 35, p. 269; Vol. 37, p. 346; Vol. 40, p. 345; Vol. 53, p. 43; Vol. 75, p. 95.

In 1784 he was a member of the Legislature and then styled "Captain."

A letter from Mrs. Minnie G. Kibbey of Marshalltown, Iowa, written Aug. 12, 1901, states she has the following information from the War Department: "John Underhill is reported as a Captain of New Hampshire troops, Revolutionary War, on a muster roll dated at Exeter, N. H., June 20, 1781, of the men mustered by Samuel Folsom to fill up the New Hampshire Regiments in the Continental Army, 1781."

That the New Hampshire Historical Society wrote her that in Dec., 1743, he took 25 pounds of a loan of 25,000 pounds; on April 16, 1760, he was certified as one of two troopers to attend Thomas Packer on his way to pay soldiers raised for the reduction of Canada, impressed by Capt. Anthony Towl.

The History of Chester: One of a committee of three to lay out the Sixth Division of the town Nov. 9, 1772; Nov., 1785, one of a committee of three to sell the common land; April 14, 1777, one of a committee of five to hire good men to enter the Continental Service; Oct. 18, 1779, one of a large committee to accept and approve of the prices set by the convention at Concord for the necessaries of life; July 5, 1780, one of three to hire 20 men; Jan. 29, 1781, one of six to procure "our proportion of soldiers" for three years or during the present war; chosen Representative Nov. 1, 1781 and 1784; April 19, 1785, voted to set the meeting house on his land; May 6, 1793, the Presbyterian Parish voted to take down the old meeting house and "set on the ground that Capt. Underhill purposes to them, near Joseph Calphs." In 1765 he was appointed Captain of Ninth troop of the 1st Regt. of Cavalry.

The above information is signed by N. F. Carter, Librarian.

Another account states that Capt. John Underhill is 1784 was chosen Representative from Chester to the State Council to form a State Constitution, thus being the first representative sent out from Chester after the independence of the United States had been acknowledged by Great Britain.

4 MOSES UNDERHILL, son of (1) Sampson and Elizabeth (Ambrose) Underhill, was born in Salisbury, Mass., in 1726, and was married by license in Chester, N. H., by Rev. Odlen of Exeter, N. H., Dec. 26, 1753, to Anna, born Exeter, N. H., buried in Auburn, N. H., daughter of Nathaniel and Ann Glidden of Exeter. He died in Chester, May 10, 1804.

Issue:

+ 16 Abigail, born Oct. 21, 1754.
+ 17 Nathaniel.
18 Elizabeth, born Feb. 20, 1757, died unmarried in 1838.
+ 19 Moses, born Nov. 4, 1765.
+ 20 Anne, born Aug. 6, 1767.

The daughter Elizabeth died unmarried and the probate records of Rockingham County, N. H., No. 13529, give the following information regarding the heirs to her estate. Petition, dated April 14, 1838, of Abigail Crombie shows that Elizabeth Underhill, late of Chester, single, lately deceased, left no nearer relatives than a brother and two sisters of whom but one resides in said County. Petitioner declines to administer and asks that John Folsom, Esq., of Chester, be appointed. Bond, dated April 24, 1838. On Aug. 16, 1839, Betsey Webster and Joshua Webster acknowledged receipt of their share of what would fall to Moses Underhill, late of Chester, who was a brother of deceased; on Sept. 12, 1839, Nathaniel Underhill receipted for ¼ of her estate; May 1, 1839, Abigail Crombie receipted for ¼; May 1, 1839, Anna

Willson receipted for ¼; Nov. 2, 1839, David C. Underhill, as his part of his father's Moses Underhill, late of Chester, deceased, a brother of deceased, who was entitled to ¼ part.

Ann Glidden of Exeter, N. H., widow, made her will April 19, 1764, which was proven Aug. 29, 1770, which is recorded in the Rockingham County, Probate Records and in which she names her sons Nathaniel and John and her daughters, Anne Underhill, Abigail Rawlins, Elizabeth, wife of Benjamin Brown, Mary Cram and Susanna Glidden.

Liber 121, p. 485 of Deeds, shows that Moses Underhill of Chester, hatter, with wife Anna, Benjamin Kimball of Moultonborough, mason, and wife, Elizabeth, Eliphalet Rollins of Canterbury, farmer, and wife, Abigail, Nehemiah Cram of Deerfield and wife Mary, Nathaniel Glidden, of Chester, cabinet maker, and Susanna Glidden of Deerfield, spinster, conveyed two acres in Exeter to John Dean of that place, hatter, said acreage having been set off to their mother, Ann Glidden, late of Exeter, widow of Nathaniel. No date, but about 1783-4.

Moses Underhill learned the trade of a hatter and always went by the appellation of "Hatter Underhill." After his marriage, he lived and carried on his trade a little northwest of the brick school house in Chester. In 1770, he purchased of John Dearborn of Stratham, half of lot No. 127, which was located on the Hooksett Road in Auburn, N. H., on which he built his house which stood on the west side of the main road and was known as the Bear Tavern, because he furnished his guests with lodgings on bear skins on the floor. The house was single in width with a stone chimney sufficiently capacious to receive wood eight feet long which was drawn in by a horse.

According to a petition that was sent to the General Court in 1753, an attempt was made to divide the Presbyterian parish and he was one of the signers.

Liber D, 89, p. 125, Moses Underhill of Chester, felt maker, with wife, Anna, conveyed, Oct. 17, 1763, property to Abraham Fitts of Chester, blacksmith.

Liber 147, p. 566, Moses Underhill of Chester, felter, conveyed May 21, 1793, property to his son, Nathaniel, yeoman.

Liber 137, p. 161, Moses Underhill, hatter, on March 22, 1794, conveyed property to son Moses, of Chester.

Liber 102, p. 191, Moses Underhill, felt maker, with Anna, his wife, on April 25, 1771, conveyed property to Daniel Greenough, of Haverhill, Mass.

Residence of Hezekiah and Josiah Underhill
Chester, New Hampshire
(Vol. IV, pages 27, 37)

Liber 135, p. 107, Moses Underhill, hatter, of Chester, N. H., on July 15, 1793, conveys property to his daughter, Elizabeth, spinster, of Chester.

5 HEZEKIAH UNDERHILL, son of (1) Sampson and Elizabeth (Ambrose) Underhill, was born in Salisbury, Mass., Sept. 17, 1727, and died in Chester, N. H., March 18, 1800; married Tabitha, died Aug. 24, 1803, daughter of Jacob and Judith Sargent of Amesbury, Mass., and Candia, N. H., and widow of John Foss. Her father was called "Ensign Sargent." They are buried in the Chester Village Cemetery.

Issue:

21 Jonathan, born 1752. He served in the Revolutionary War, under Capt. Runnell, Col. Webster's Regt. His name is on the payroll of that Company, Sept. 26, 1776. He died while in service.

22 Hannah, married and removed to Cabot, Vt.

23 Sarah, married Samuel, son of John Underhill. See No. 12.

+ 24 Josiah, born 1758.

Hezekiah Underhill, yeoman, made his will in Chester, N. H., May 5, 1786, which was proven April 16, 1800, and is recorded in the probate records of Rockingham County, N. H., at Exeter, No. 6684. He names his son, Josiah, daughter Sarah Underhill, married; daughter Hannah; wife evidently living.

He was a shoe maker and his home in Chester was later occupied by his son, Josiah, and his grandson, Jesse J. Underhill.

Liber 107, p. 372 of Deeds in Rockingham County, N. H.: Hezekiah Underhill of Chester, cordwainer, and his wife, Tabitha, convey to Abraham Sargent of Chester, husbandman, all their right, title and interest in the estate "which belongs to us out of the estate of our father, Jacob Sargent, of Chester, gentleman, deceased." Dated April 19, 1774.

Liber 134, p. 426 of Deeds, shows that Hezekiah Underhill of Chester, cordwainer, received property from Benjamin Batchelder, husbandman, of Chester, on March 6, 1754, which was acknowledged March 11, 1754, but not recorded until Sept. 24, 1793.

File No. 1169 of Wills and Deeds in New Hampshire Historical Society, Concord, N. H., states, regarding the estate of John Foss, that his wife, Tabitha, was appointed his administratrix Nov. 27, 1745, but that her dower was not set off until Nov. 28, 1787, she being then called Tabitha Underhill.

THIRD GENERATION

6 BETTY UNDERHILL, daughter of (2) John and Joanna (Healey) Underhill, was born in Chester, N. H., July 13, 1742, and died in Candia, N. H., Sept. 30, 1806, as the wife of Lt. Samuel Buswell of Candia, born Salisbury, Mass., Oct. 22, 1741, died Candia, N. H., Jan. 9, 1827, son of John and Tabitha Buswell of Salisbury, Mass. They were married in 1764.

Issue (Buswell):

+ 25 John, born Nov. 30, 1767.
26 Moses, resided in Maine. Was a physician.
27 Sarah, born June 4, 1770. See No. 19.
28 Richard, married Sarah, daughter of Jonathan and Betty (Smith) Berry. Resided Candia, N. H. He was drowned Aug. 3, 1809.
29 William, went to Canada and died there.
30 Samuel, died May 10, 1811.
31 Hannah, married a Moore and resided in Canterbury, N. H.
32 David, married a Chase; resided, Bradford, N. H., died in New London, Conn., in 1822.

Samuel Buswell served in the French War and was at Cape Breton and later served in the Revolutionary War.

7 WILLIAM UNDERHILL, son of (2) John and Joanna (Healey) Underhill, was born in Chester, N. H., Feb. 15, 1744, and married Abigail, daughter of Jonathan and Elizabeth Choate. In 1771 they were of Candia, N. H., but the vital records state that he died in Moultonboro, N. H., Nov. 24, 1780.

Issue (possibly others) said to have had six children:

+ 33 Jeremiah Choate, born 1770.

On Sept. 17, 1766, William Underhill of Candia, N. H., received land from John Underhill of Chester, N. H. (Vol. 113, p. 385, Exeter, N. H.)

Jonathan Choate died before March 8, 1757, for on that date his widow, Elizabeth, of Kingston, N. H., was the wife of Jacob "Bridgham." (N. H. Wills in N. H. Hist. Society, Vol. 20, p. 134.)

William Underhill, yeoman, and Abigail Underhill, of Candia, N. H., convey property to Nathaniel Brown of Candia, Sept. 14, 1771. (Deeds, 109, p. 358.)

William Underhill and Abigail Underhill, both of Candia, N. H., "land in Kingston, of my father, Jonathan Choate, late of Kingston and my part of the dowry set off to my mother, Elizabeth." Feb. 5, 1770. (Deeds, 135, p. 195.)

8 JOHN UNDERHILL, son of (2) John and Joanna (Healey) Underhill, was born in Chester, N. H., June 20, 1745, and married in 1767, Hannah Colby, daughter of Joseph. They resided near the brick school house on the opposite side of the road a little to the southwest. He removed to Plainfield, N. H., where he died in 1816.

Everything indicates that this was the John Underhill who was promoted to Sergeant at the Battle of Bennington, Aug. 16, 1777.

Issue (order not known):

+ 34 Amos, born 1772.
+ 35 John, born 1776.
+ 36 Joseph, born 1770.
+ 37 Jonathan, born Aug. 9, 1779.
38 Nancy.
39 Susan.

Joseph Colby, of Chester, N. H., resided on Lot No. 40, located on the Long Meadow road and near the old brick school house. On March 2, 1774, his daughter Hannah and her husband, John Underhill, purchased this place and lived there until they removed to Plainfield. They sold it in 1801 to Mary Brown but previous to its purchase they lived in Candia.

9 MOLLY UNDERHILL, daughter of (2) John and Joanna (Healey) Underhill, was born in Chester, N. H., Dec. 4, 1747, and married in 1765, James Pierce, who died in Chester in 1796. He served as a private in the Revolutionary War in the N. H. Militia under Capt. John Dearborn.

Issue (Pierce) said to have been nine children:

40 Susan, married Henry, son of Simon and Eloner

(Hall) Towle and had (a) Maria Antoniette, married Horace, son of Caleb and Rebecca (Poole) Hunt, of Chester, N. H., and had Antoinette, born Boston, married Edward Bradford Dench, (b) Simon, married Harriet, daughter of Caleb and Rebecca (Poole) Hunt and had Emily Prescott, born in Tallahasse, Fla., married William Thurber Cushing.

Simon Towle, born Hampton, N. H., 1759, died Haverhill, Mass., 1808, served as a minute man at Winter Hill and as a private in Stark's Brigade in the Revolutionary War.

10 MOSES UNDERHILL, son of (2) John and Joanna (Healey) Underhill, was born in Chester, N. H., Feb. 2, 1749, and died there Feb. 8, 1838, at his home which was located a little west of the brick school house. He married first Patty (Martha) Knight, who was living in 1774; second, Nabby Elliott, by whom he had no issue; third, Rachel, born March 17, 1771, daughter of Stephen and Sarah (Choate) Lufkin.

Issue (by first wife):

41 Moses, born 1782, not married. Served in the War of 1812.

\+ 42 Patty, born 1785.

(by third wife):

43 Jacob, born 1788, died young.

\+ 44 Sally, born Nov. 26, 1790.

45 Rachel, born 1791, died young.

46 Polly, born 1793, died 1863; married in 1819, Thomas Montgomery and had one son and three daughters.

\+ 47 Elizabeth (Betsey), born April 28, 1796.

\+ 48 David, born 1799.

\+ 49 Ruth, born Jan. 22, 1802.

50 John, born 1804, died unmarried.

51 Stephen, born 1806, married by Rev. Joel R. Arnold, in Chester, N. H., Nov. 28, 1822, to Sally Currier.

52 Abigail, born 1809, died unmarried.

\+ 53 Charles West, born July 9, 1813.

Moses Underhill, Jr., of Chester, N. H., cordwainer, and wife, Martha, convey to Moses Greenough, of Atkinson, housewright, land in Plaistow, which fell to Martha from the estate of her father, Richard Knight, late of that place. Dated Oct. 19, 1774. (Rockingham County, N. H., Deeds, Vol. 205, p. 443.)

The editor has been unable to place genealogically one Moses Underhill, who as a resident of Chester, N. H., married in Pembroke, N. H., Oct. 28, 1796, Hannah Moore, of Bow, N. H. Deeds in Rockingham County, N. H., Liber 152, p. 442, show that Moses Underhill, of Chester, quit-claimed to James Moore of Bow, all the interest he had in a deed of land given by Moses Moore to Joseph Clough, dated Dec. 7, 1796, and all annuities arising from said Clough to "my wife Hannah," in consequence of her conveying to him her right in the premises. Recorded March 25, 1799.

In 1776, "the subscribers do engage and promise that we will to the utmost in our power at the Risque of our Lives and Fortunes with Arms, oppose the hostile proceedings of the British Fleets and Armies against the American Colonies." Among the signers were William, John, Moses, Moses, Jr., David, Hezekiah and Jonathan Underhill. (Revolutionary Data.)

11 DAVID UNDERHILL, son of (2) John and Joanna (Healey) Underhill, was born in Chester, N. H., Sept. 9, 1751, and married Jemima Blake in that town, Sept. 20, 1792. She was born in 1758, and died Jan. 25, 1827. He died July 28, 1827, and they are buried in Chester Village Cemetery.

Issue:

54 John, born Aug. 15, 1794, died May 3, 1826; married in Chester, N. H., Jan. 24, 1815, Lucy G., daughter of Joseph and Molly (Gilchrist) Linn, of Chester. Issue: (a) Henry B., born Chester, Nov. 21, 1815, married in Sandown, N. H., by Rev. William French, Jan. 26, 1836, Mary, daughter of Peter Bennett of of that place. Issue: Mary A.; Theodate Bennett; Helen Louise, born June 7, 1842, Sandown, N. H. At one time bookkeeper, House of Refuge, Randall's Island, N. Y.; unmarried.

On Oct. 11, 1837, Henry B. had a guardian appointed over him by the Selectmen as he was wasting the estate left him by his grandfather, David, and his father, John. (No. 1342, Probate Records, Rockingham County, N. H.); (b) Jemima, born Dec. 5, 1818, Chester.

David Underhill was a Corporal in Stephen Dearborn's Company, Thomas Stickney's Regiment, General Stark's Brigade and fought in the Battle of Bennington, Aug. 16, 1777.

A late record states that Theodate Bennett Underhill married Jeremiah Lashua and resided in Lowell, Mass. Issue: Jerry, Edward, Bernice, Nellie, Grace.

David Underhill made his will in Chester, N. H., Sept. 16, 1826, which was proven Aug. 16, 1827, according to the probate records of Rockingham County, N. H., No. 11488. He names his wife, Jemima, granddaughter, Jemima, not 21 years of age; daughter-in law, Lucy G., a widow, whom he makes executrix; grandson, Henry. On the same day (No. 11481), Lucy G. Underhill is appointed guardian of her son, Henry, under 14 years of age, child of John Underhill, deceased, late of Chester. She was also appointed guardian of his daughter, Jemima, not 14 years. The petition shows that Henry, aged 12, and Jemima, aged 9, were children of the petitioner, Lucy G.

The Long Island Star issued in Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 13, 1827, has the following: "David Underhill died in Chester, N. H., aged 77 years. He was in the Battle of Bennington in the Revolution. Once addicted to liquor but for 30 years or more strictly temperate."

Henry B. Underhill was a minor over 14 years of age when, on Oct. 9, 1833, Isaac Tompkins of Chester, N. H., was appointed his guardian, because of a legacy through the will of his grandfather, David Underhill.

On the same date, John S. Brown was appointed guardian of Jemima B. Underhill, a minor over 14, for the same reason, and on April 29, 1840, she, as the wife of Nathaniel Aiken, gives receipt, etc. (Rockingham County, N. H., Probate No. 12607).

12 SAMUEL UNDERHILL, son of (2) John and Joanna (Healey) Underhill, was born in Chester, N. H., May 5, 1752, and married there Dec. 12, 1775, Sarah (No. 23), daughter of Hezekiah Underhill and his wife, Tabitha Sargent. He died in Chester, Sept. 20, 1828, and she died there in Aug., 1829.

Issue (born Chester, N. H.):

+ 55 Dolly, born June 28, 1777.
+ 56 Richard Knight, Jan. 24, 1780.
+ 57 William Harry, born Dec. 2, 1783, Chester, N. H.
58 Samuel, born Chester, N. H., April 22, 1786, married Nov., 1807, Betsey March, who died in Boscawen, N. H., March 1, 1870, a widow, aged 83 years. No issue.

At a meeting held in Chester, N. H., Nov. 14, 1794, it was voted that Samuel Underhill take the place of his father, Capt. John, deceased, on the committee for disposing of all the common land. It is said of him that, being a Quaker, that in 1807, he refused to pay the Presbyterian Parish tax and his cow was taken and sold. It brought three dollars over the tax, which was returned. Benjamin Chase in his History of Chester, states, "I recollect distinctly that Aunt Sarah came up through the mud one Sunday morning and returned the three dollars to my father, saying that the cow was hers but the money was not, and that she could not sleep with the cursed stuff in the house."

Samuel Underhill, of Chester, N. H., died intestate, leaving widow, Sarah, and William H. and Samuel Underhill on Sept. 1, 1829, request that John S. Brown, of Chester, be appointed Administrator on the estate of the widow, Sarah. (Rockingham County, N. H., Probate, No. 11876.)

13 JEREMIAH UNDERHILL, son of (2) John and Joanna (Healey) Underhill, was born Aug. 6, 1755, Chester, N. H., and was married in Hampstead, N. H., in Sept., 1775, by Rev. True of Hampstead, N. H., to Anna Heath, born there, Oct. 21, 1755, died Chester, May 19, 1844, daughter of Elijah and Hannah (Dearborn) Heath, of Chester. He died in Chester, Sept. 16, 1794. Their nine children were raised in a house with but one large room and one bed room.

In 1782 he was one of 24 people who were assessed for the procuring of one able-bodied and active man for the Continental Army. His assessment was 1 pound 17s, 2p.

Issue:

59 David, born Chester, N. H., Jan. 19, 1776. Perhaps the David who was married by Rev. Nathan Bradstreet, in Chester, N. H., Dec. 19, 1805, to Abigail Noyes. He left daughter, Ann, who married Alonzo Caldwell and left two children.

+ 78 Hazen C., born 1803.

+ 79 Stephen, born Jan. 21, 1806.

+ 80 George, born March 14, 1808.

Nathaniel Underhill resided in Chester, N. H., near the old brick school house on the Long Meadow Road until about 15 years of age. When his parents removed to Auburn, near the Hooksett line, where his father built the noted Bear Tavern.

In the late 1700's he removed to Piermont, N. H., and purchased a parcel of land located about a mile off the Brook Road on a hill at the foot of Peaked Mountain, where he built a log house and in 1816 built the main part of the house now standing. This place was later owned and occupied by his son George and later by George's son Frank M., "who now (1927) resides in Newburyport, Mass." His eldest son, Richard, either had part of the home farm or purchased a lot adjoining as his building stands about a mile above, just across the pastures, and Wm. T. Underhill lived there until he moved to Illinois.

The Old History of Chester, N. H., p. 382, states: "Col. John Webster certifies that he sent forward the following four men in 1781 from Candia, N. H., to join the First N. H. Regiment, when there should have been five: John Wasson, Jonathan Davis, Nathaniel Underhill, Thomas Anderson."

Nathaniel Underhill was a Revolutionary soldier as per the New Hampshire Revolutionary War Rolls, Vol. 3, p. 262. Report of Col. John Webster made from Chester, N. H., regarding the regiment sent from Chester and Candia to Springfield under Lieut. Josiah Flagg on the 24th of Sept., 1781. Nathanial Underhill's name appears with those sent from Candia. Report made by Col. Webster, Oct. 6, 1781. Vol. 4, p. 427. Muster Roll of a Company of men commanded by Capt. William Boyes in Col. Reynold's Regiment of New Hampshire Militia, 1781. In this roll appears the name of Nathaniel Underhill, private, sent from Candia. Enlisted Sept. 15, 1781. Time marched, Sept. 24, 1781.

"I hereby certify that the foregoing are true abstracts from Revolutionary War Rolls preserved in the Archives of this State. In Testimony Whereof, I hereunto subscribe my official signature and affix the seal of the State at Concord, this 27th day of March, 1928.

"HOBART PILLSBURY,
Secretary of State.

19 MOSES UNDERHILL, son of (4) Moses and Anna (Glidden) Underhill, was born in Chester, N. H., Nov. 4, 1765, and died in Auburn, N. H., April 23, 1827; married in Candia, N. The History of Chester, N. H., furnishes the following article:

"As the Underhill Family have been not only locally but widely celebrated as edge tool makers and as Chester has been to a considerable extent the seat of their operations, I give here some account of the rise and progress of the business.

"Lieut. Josiah Underhill served a very short apprenticeship at the blacksmith trade with E. Fitts. When he first commenced business he did not dare undertake to weld a collar on to the bearing of a grindstone crank, but upset the end and the crank is yet in use. Jesse J. once told me that Nathaniel Hall had an axe in which the smith did not succeed in welding in steel and he riveted it and Mr. Hall had to carry a hammer to tighten the rivet. He did not tell me who the smith was but one of his men told me that it was his father. Mr. Underhill, however, became a workman and drove a thriving business at all branches including scythes, axes, hoes, etc., as his account book shows. The first whom I knew to make a business of edge tools was Ingalls of Dunstable at the Harbor, I suppose near where the shop of the Underhill Company now is.

"As Mr. Underhill's sons grew up they learned the trade. Jesse J. Underhill settled where the Candia road crosses the Londonderry turnpike, where Charles Offut now lives, but soon returned and took his father's shop. He soon turned his attention almost exclusively to the tool business. The axes were then made of Russia iron and blistered steel. At the time of the war of 1812 it was very difficult to get steel, it being of English manufacture. American steel was tried but it proved worthless. Mr. Underhill at length obtained a quantity which was smuggled through Canada for which he paid 75c per pound.

"At that time they had a very slow method of doing their work. They would take as long a piece of iron as they could well handle and cut and turn down about an inch to make a head, then plate the cheek and cut it off and lay it aside for one-half the axe and then in the same manner make the other side and weld them together. One of Mr. Underhill's men, Nathaniel Brown, informs me that he and Joseph Neil used to work three hours in the winter evenings to make three polls without welding in the steel. It was then a good day's work for two men to make six axes, working from morning till night with no finish whatever.

"In 1822 Mr. Underhill with his apprentices (his brother, Jay T. Underhill and Elihu Thayer) went to work at Boston for Mr. Faxon, then a celebrated workman. The work was all done there by hand and with a common forge, but they had a horse power to put on some finish and two hands were required to forge, temper and grind, six chopping or three broad axes per day.

"In 1824 Mr. Faxon died and the Underhills' took the shop. In 1826 Jesse J. Underhill returned to Chester and put up a horse power and put some finish on his tools. In 1828 Jay T. Underhill built a shop on Chester Street and moved his horse power from Boston and ran four fires. In 1829 Jesse J. Underhill and his son, Samuel G. Underhill, went to Boston and did business in the old fashion. In 1832 Jesse J. Underhill return to Chester and fitted up a water power with tilt hammer, grinding and polishing, in his father's old grist mill. In 1835 Flagg T. Underhill, having learned the trade, Jay T. Underhill and he bought the Blanchard Mills, built a shop, with tilt-hammer, grinding and blowing common bellows by water. In 1837, John S. Brown became a partner. In 1839, Jay T. Underhill died and the business was carried on under different firms by Flagg T. Underhill, John S. Brown, Nathaniel Brown and W. W. Leighton.

"About 1839 the business underwent a great revolution. The hard coal furnace with a fan blower which gave a much hotter fire with a constant blast was introduced and refined English iron of a more suitable size used so that instead of being an hour making one poll, four axes could be made with steel fit for the grinder in one hour without any division of labor. In the Underhill and Blodgett shops where there is a greater variety of tools and division of labor it is done much faster.

"These improvements were introduced into the large establishments of Collins' at Hartford and Hunt at Douglass, several years earlier. Geo. W. Underhill set up at Nashua in 1839, but a large stock company was formed in 1851 of which he is the Superintendent. Geo. W. Underhill informed the writer that when he first started at Nashua in the old Ingalls shop with a blower, nine narrow or five broad axes was a day's work.

"The Underhill Co., in 1865, employed about 60 men and produced three hundred chopping axes and about one hundred and sixty broad axes and other kinds of tools daily. Cast steel was not used by Mr. Underhill until about 1820. It was first supposed to be incapable of standing, excepting laid on iron as in chisels and plane irons and there was a great secrecy about welding. When it first came into use it was not of assorted sizes but about an inch square. For axes, it was cornered down and for other tools had to be drawn. When blister steel was used, and in the early days of cast steel, German steel was used for small tools."

Descendants of Amos Underhill state that he left Vermont with his family and an ox team and purchased land 2½ miles from Aurora, N. Y., now East Aurora, where he lived and died, and that he fought in the War of 1812. In 1835 purchase of land by him in the same territory is shown by a deed recorded in Erie County, N. Y., Liber 199, p. 454, the original of which was owned by his descendant in 1926, Mrs. John J. Sterling of Boston Harbor, Mich.

B. H. Underhill, of Bellows Falls, Vt., states that a great many families from Candia, Auburn and Chester settled in Piermont, and from there easily located in Vermont and through this manuscript, one may find many members of this line living and dying in Vermont.

The following item from Vol. 1, p. 257, of Probate Records of Orleans County, Vermont, may refer to this branch of the family, but it has not been established: "Administration granted Dec. 4, 1809, on the estate of James Underhill, late of Greenboro, Vt., to Joseph Scott and his widow, Abelina Underhill. No issue. One-half of his estate assigned to his widow and the remainder to Stephen, Amos, Jeremiah, Jonathan and Abigail Underhill and Joanna Allen, relationship not stated nor residences given. Account closed in Dec., 1810. The widow married in Craftsbury, Vt., Sept. 3, 1810, James Perry of Greensboro."

One widow Underhill died in Greensboro, Vt., Dec. 8, 1810, aged 57 years. Not identified.

Administration granted to his son, John G., Jan. 19, 1906, papers stating that he left a widow residing at the Hotel. (Adm. Brooklyn, Liber 135, p. 235.)

Francis F. Underhill came to Brooklyn as a young man, going into the dry goods business. Ill health forced his retirement and he spent several years in Europe. He became financial secretary of the Brooklyn Board of Education on his return, remaining in that capacity fifteen years. His funeral was held from the home of his brother-in-law, Hermann S. Bergen, at 162 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn.

Issue: John G., born Jan. 10, 1876, at 927 Third Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., and in 1930 was residing in that city. He married in Brooklyn, at 1100 Dean Street, on April 8, 1911, Louisa Man, daughter of General George Wood and Susan Prudence (Man) Wingate, Rev. Frank M. Townley officiating. Issue: Susan Prudence, born Jan. 7, 1913; John Garrett, born Aug. 7, 1915.

Louise Man Underhill, wife of John Garrett Underhill, died at 1100 Dean Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., May 15, 1927. She was educated at Miss Rounds's School and for years was president of its Alumni Association. She was one of the founders of the Junior League and treasurer for 17 years of the Girls' Branch of the Public Schools Athletic League and a one-time president of the Brooklyn Branch of the Army Relief Society, the Mothers' Club of Friends School and Civitas Club. The Little Italy Neighborhood School Settlement was another of her interests and she was its president from 1908 to 1911. She was a member of the National Arts Club, The Twelfth Night Club, Garden Club of America, Women's City Club, National Civic Federation, Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce and of the Tuberculosis Committee of the Brooklyn Bureau of Charities.

Frances H. Underhill made her will June 16, 1909, which was proven March 26, 1913, and recorded in Brooklyn, N. Y., Liber 458, p. 441. She requests cremation and ashes to be placed in grave of her deceased husband, Francis F. Underhill; mentions son, John G., making him executor. Witnesses: H. B. and Maria Hubbard, of Bay Shore, L. I.

Her father was Police Commissioner in New York City and had to cope with the serious draft riots there during the Civil War and personally led his men in the battle in City Hall Park.

She was born in the old Bergen homestead near Gowanus Bay and was a member of Plymouth Church during Dr. Abbott's time.

In 1899 The Macmillan Co. published for John Garrett Underhill, Ph.D., his book entitled, "Spanish Literature in the England of the Tudors," and the New York Times states that "it throws considerable light upon the Spanish works that were introduced into England in the Elizabethan period and their effect upon many branches of English literature. Dr. Underhill's investigation is not limited to works of the imagination, but includes treaties, sermons, court books and histories. The work will be found particularly valuable for the definition of literary groups outside the dramatists and the bibliographical and biographical details, which it gathers into an accessible and orderly form."

74 ANNA UNDERHILL, daughter of (17) Nathaniel and Esther (Carr) Underhill, was born in Chester, N. H., now Auburn, June 28, 1789, and married, in Piermont, N. H., in 1812, Caleb, born Feb. 1, 1782, in Massachusetts, died 1838, Lynn Grove, Ill., buried Andover, Ill., son of Joshua and Sarah (Sawyer) Pillsbury, of Canaan, N. H. She died in Lynn Grove, now called Lynn, Ill., in April, 1861, and is buried in Andover, Ill. Presbyterian in faith.

Caleb Pillsbury's father, Joshua Pillsbury, was born in Massachusetts of New England ancestry and English descent. He was a private in the Revolutionary War, and fought under Washington and was with him at the capture of Cornwallis at Yorktown. He was united in marriage to Sarah Sawyer, who was born in Nova Scotia. She had three brothers who fought in the Revolutionary War and lost their lives in the battles of Breed's Hill and Bunker Hill.

After the marriage of Joshua and Sarah, they settled in Canaan, N. H. Their son, Caleb, fought in the War of 1812, and participated in the battles of Plattsburg and Buffalo, and was with General Brown at the Battle of Lundy's Lane. They had another son, Ithamar Pillsbury, who resided in Andover, Ill., who was considered a remarkable man for his time.

Caleb married Anna Underhill, a native of Piermont, N. H. She was of New England parentage, and of English ancestry. Her father was in the Revolutionary War; his name was Nathaniel Underhill; followed the occupation of a farmer, and was married to Esther Carr.

Caleb and his wife lived in Canaan, N. H., until 1822, when they removed to Parishville, St. Lawrence County, N. Y., and settled on a farm in that vicinty. At that time transportation facilities were rather limited; the farm team being the only means that the times afforded; the route was over trails that followed through forest and along streams. With them on this journey was Almira, a girl of nine years and George, a boy of six. They remained in Parishville until the summer of 1836; during their residence there, Levi and Ithamar were born and probably Caleb, Jr. At this time, the family with necessary equipment were loaded on to the farm wagon and they started out to find a new home in what was then the far west. They proceeded on their journey until they arrived at what is now known as Lynn Township, Henry County, Ill., then called Lynn Grove. The settlement was made in 1836, the family arriving there on the 14th day of the month. Not a house had been erected there at that time and but three families had made any improvements in the county of Henry. It was thirty miles to the nearest post office, and not a sign of civilization was visible for thirty miles around; the unbroken prairie with its groves here and there presented an appearance which time and improvement have obliterated.

Caleb obtained eighty acres of land, built the first house in Lynn Grove and then entered upon the improvement of his land. He had broken up about ten acres when he died, taken away before his realization of the future developments of the country was substantiated by actual facts. His death occured in 1838, when in his 56th year. Mrs. Pillsbury remained on the homestead with her son, George, until her death in April, 1861.

Previous to the purchase of the farm and almshouse in Chester in 1822, it was customary to reduce the board of such of the paupers as were in town, to the lowest bidder. Among the purchasers was Jesse J. Underhill, who paid sixteen dollars for Nancy Allen.

Jesse J. Underhill, as he grew up, learned the trade of his father, tool making. He settled where the Candia road crosses the Londonderry Turnpike, but soon returned and took his father's shop and gave his attention almost exclusively to the business. At this time it was a very slow process to make an axe, then it would take the purchasers two or three hours with an ordinary grindstone to put an edge on it. In 1829 he with his son, Samuel G., went to Boston and did business in the old way, but in 1832, they returned to Chester and fitted up a waterpower, with tilt hammer, grinder and polisher, in his father's old grist mill.

282 Mary Folsom, born Chester, N. H., Feb. 7, 1834, married in Concord, Mass., May 16, 1854, at the home of Hon. Simon Brown, Joseph P. Dudley, and died in Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 15, 1891, at her home on Delaware Avenue, having removed to that city four years after she was married.

"Though she had been seriously ill for over twelve weeks, her death was a great shock to her many friends and acquaintances by all of whom she was universally loved. Shortly after removing to Buffalo, she became a member of the Lafayette Street Presbyterian Church and as an able and conscientious worker in the Church and Sunday School had few equals, and none superior in ability and faithful service.

She ever gave a ready response to all good and deserving calls, and being of an unusual sunny and loving temperament, she took pleasure in bestowing happiness on those who were in less fortunate circumstances than herself.

For many years she was one of the Managers of the Home for the Friendless and also served for years on the Board of the Buffalo General Hospital.

To both of these institutions she gave the active and intelligent counsel that a woman with her gifts and ability had it in her power to bestow; but it was in the quieter life of her home that her admirable nature was most beneficiently felt. Her constant thought was for others and it was her greatest pleasure to be able to add to the joys of her friends and relations.

Blessed with ample means the circle of those made happy was large and all her benevolence was done with simplicity and in the spirit of the Golden Rule."

Mary Folsom (Underhill) Dudley
(Vol. IV, page 66)

Jay T. Underhill of Chester, N. H., edge-tool maker, made his will Jan. 31, 1839, which was proven March 20, 1839, and recorded in Rockingham County, N. H., No. 13708. He names his heirs: Wife, Sally S., four children, Charles Brown Underhill, oldest son; Louisa White Underhill, Mary Folsom Underhill, youngest daughter, and John Jay Underhill, youngest son. Executor: Ephraim Orcutt, of Chester. Witnesses: John Folsom, Dolly J. Folsom and Stephen Clay. His inventory mentions the homestead of 2½ acres, a pew in the Congregational Church, and a one-half pew in the Methodist Church.

He learned the trade of tool making and was associated with his brother, Flagg T., in several enterprises in this business. In 1822 he went to Boston with Jesse J. and Elihu Thayer and established a shop that used horse power. In 1828 he built a shop on Chester's main street and moved the horse power station from Boston and ran four fires. In 1835, he and his brother, Flagg T., built another shop and put in two spiral-vent water wheels (the first of the kind in this region), one to drive a tilt hammer and the other to do the grinding and polishing. The old mill pond and part of the foundation of the old shop are there today. In 1839, Jay T. died of pneumonia contracted when trying to save his mill from destruction in a Spring freshet, but notwithstanding his efforts, a portion of the dam went out, undermining and carrying away the mill. This was the beginning of what later became one of the leading industries of its kind.

98 FLAGG TEMPLE UNDERHILL, son of (24) Josiah and Anna (Melvin) Underhill, was born in Chester, N. H., Feb. 8, 1804, and was married there by Rev. Jonathan Clement, Nov. 3, 1831, to Mary, born Dec. 18, 1806, Newburyport, Mass., died 1870, Auburn, N. H., daughter of Nathaniel and Mary (Sleeper) Brown of Chester, N. H. He died in Auburn, N. H., Nov. 16, 1850.

Issue:

+ 283 Arthur Brown, born Chester, N. H., Nov. 22, 1832.
+ 284 Luther M., born July 13, 1836.
285 Mary B., died young.

Flagg Temple Underhill, No. 98, was associated with his brother, Jay T., in the keen edge tool business and about 1839 the business underwent a great revolution as they began to use a hard coal furnace with a fan blower which gave a much hotter fire with a constant blast. Refined English iron of a more suitable size was obtainable about this time, so with these improvements instead of being an hour making one axe, they could make four, that were ready for the grinder.

Flagg T. Underhill (98), with John S. Brown of Chester, N. H., were appointed guardians of Charles B., Louisa W., Mary Folsom and John J. Underhill, all of Chester, minors under 14 years of age and children of Jay T. Underhill, deceased (97) Aug. 28, 1839. Rockingham County, N. H., Probate, No. 13770.)

218 GEORGE B. PILLSBURY, son of Caleb and (74) Anna (Underhill) Pillsbury, was born Oct. 4, 1816, in Canaan, N. H., and married in Dover, Ill., Dec. 15, 1846, Elizabeth J., born July 16, 1825, Enfield, N. H., died Feb. 22, 1911, Monmouth, Ill., buried in Andover, Ill., daughter of David and Judith (Pattee) Greeley of Dover, Ill., formerly of Enfield, N. H. Her parents settled on a farm near Dover, Ill., where her mother died in 1865. Her father died in Iowa, 1881.

George B. Pillsbury was only six years of age when his parents went to Parishville, N. Y. It was on his father's farm that he remained, alternating his labors thereon with attendance at the public schools until the family removed to Lynn Grove, Ill., when he was a youth of twenty. He resided with his parents until his father's death in 1838, then secured the home place from the heirs, purchased eighty additional acres and entered vigorously and energetically upon the cultivation and improvement of the same. In 1841, he hauled wheat with an ox-team to Chicago, for which he received 45c per bushel, and was compelled to pay ten dollars a barrel for salt with the proceeds. He at one time purchased a large stock of goods and traded them for cattle and hogs which he drove to the Chicago market, requiring from November 1st to January 1st to make the trip and return.

He was a sterling and respected citizen of Henry County and became the first supervisor of Lynn Township; was one of the first to advocate and assist in its organization. The voting precinct was at his house for several years, and upon him was conferred the honor of naming the township. By energetic effort, good judgment and economy, coupled with the active cooperation of his wife, he added to the original purchase of land until he was the proprietor of nearly eight hundred acres of good farm land in Lynn Township, thus becoming the largest land owner in the township.

George B. Pillsbury was not only the first supervisor of Lynn Township, an office that he held for four years, but was Justice of Peace fourteen years and Township Treasurer for several years. He took an active interest in the common school question, devoted much of his time and means to further the cause of the township.

Politically, he was identified with the tenents of the Democratic party. During the last years of his life, he was deprived of his eyesight. He died in Lynn Township, Ill., Feb. 10, 1887, and was buried in Andover, Ill.

On Oct. 4, 1894, in the petition for probate of the above will by the widow and Wm. J. Mandell of Cambridge, it states that he died Sept. 29, 1894, a resident of Chelsea, Mass.

John Jay and Helen Amelia Underhill
Parents of Francis Jay Underhill
(Vol. IV, page 116)

On June 5, 1871, John Jay Underhill and his wife, Helen, sold property in Chelsea, Mass., to Daniel L. Lord. (Deeds, Suffolk County, Mass., Liber 1054, p. 201.)

On Oct. 20, 1862, John Jay Underhill of Chelsea, Mass., requests that he be appointed Administrator of the estate of Sarah S. Underhill, late of Chelsea, widow. Granted. (Suffolk County, Mass., Probate Records, Liber 230, p. 325.)

John Jay Underhill was born in Chester, N. H., 22 Dec., 1835. His father, who established the Underhill Edge Tool Co., died three years later. The widow, after a time, removed to Boston, and the children, four in number, were scattered. John Jay, the youngest but one, lived with different relatives for several years. This separation from his mother during his childhood was a bitter trial to him, which he never forgot. In the meantime he went to the public school, and for two years was a student in Lee Academy. At the age of fourteen he came to Boston and found a situation in the Suffolk Bank, remaining there two years. He then went to the Tremont National Bank, where from the start he won the respect and confidence of the officials and having been advanced step by step to a responsible position in the institution, he continued there to the end of his life.

Mr. Underhill made his home in Chelsea, and for several years he carried on a business there as real estate and insurance agent. Because of his reputation for strict integrity, he was frequently called to assist as trustee or executor in the settlement of estates. He was identified with all the charitable organizations of the city. On the 6th of March, 1864, he made a public profession of his faith in Christ and joined the First Congregational Church, of which the Rev. Albert H. Plumb was then the minister. He was a teacher in the Sunday School from April, 1872, until his last illness which began in March, 1894. During the same period he was a member of the Prudential Committee and much of the time was its Chairman. He was, we are told, a constant attendant at the prayer meetings and active in all branches of church work. He was chosen deacon for a term of five years, 29 December, 1879, and again, 28 January, 1886, but then declined to serve. He was again elected for five years, 27 December, 1886, and for three years, 1 January, 1892, and at the time of his death was the senior deacon in the church. He performed his last official duties in connection with the funeral of his friend and fellow member, Honorable Rufus S. Frost. On that occasion he took a severe cold, which was followed by an attack of typhoid fever, and from this he never recovered. He suffered for six months, and at length died from what is called heart failure, on the 29th of September. His funeral was attended by the Rev. Mr. Phelps and his former pastor, Dr. Plumb, who spoke with much feeling of his long, useful and consistent Christian life. A newspaper notice of his death says that perhaps no resident of Chelsea was held in higher esteem or more loved for his many good deeds. "In times of suffering his was the hand that was outstretched in sympathy, and his the heart that beat in unison with trouble, no matter in what guise it came." He left a widow and three children to mourn his loss. One of his sons, a physician, had the privilege of ministering to him during his protracted illness. (Congregational Clubs of Boston Necrology for 1894.)

Remarks at the funeral of John Jay Underhill, made by his former pastor, at Chelsea, Mass., Oct. 2, 1894:

"Three Sabbaths, bright and happy days of the Lord, appear conspicuous and momentous in the experience of this good man, each the auspicious opening to him of a new career of blessing and of power.

"Thirty-five years ago, one beautiful Sabbath morning within that embowered home nearby, whose green lawn and overshadowing elms no one now can find, his marriage vows were plighted. From that simple nuptial service the newly wedded pair came to their places as attendants upon divine worship in this sanctuary. There are some here present who sat with them then in yonder pew. Then began his household life, and from that hour till his kind heart ceased its throbbing, its pulses were always affectionate, tender, faithful and true. How genial the companionship of his home. The friendly grasp of his welcoming hand, the merry twinkle of his pleasant eyes, the quaint humor of his kindly speech—who of all that have enjoyed them can ever forget them? How utter, how satisfying the reliance of wife and children on his fond presence, his steady judgment, his strong love; . . . of a pure devotion never went out, and when during the last two weeks his voice faltered his loving companion fed the flame in his stead.

"Thirty years ago another gladsome Sabbath dawned, when the youthful husband, led by his wife's example years before, here at this altar, with fifteen others, took on himself holy vows to God and entered upon his life in the Church of Christ, for one memorable evening not long before, on an adjacent street with his pastor he walked and talked till at length he gave his hand in the young Christian's decisive choice. And that religious life was one of fidelity and zeal, of unbounded devotion and abounding labor. For forty-two years holding an important position in an institution of trust and in other relations charged with grave responsibilities, his integrity and efficiency were as a tower of strength. For twenty-four years the teacher of a Bible Class, he was a Christian helper of young men. As an office bearer in the Church, as a friend of the afflicted and distressed, as a citizen active in promoting temperance and other reforms, he has stood all these years in this community as a worthy representative of this Christian Church, into whose life he entered that Sunday so long ago.

"Two days since, once more the Lord's Day, brought him introduction into a nobler, happier life; this time it was the heavenly life into which he entered, the glorified life with Christ on high, where our rejoicing faith feebly strives to follow him. 'Made meet to be a partaker of the inheritance of the Saints in light,' his eternal Sabbath of peace and joy has now begun. Said the Saviour concerning his disciples, 'I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.' How large the fulfillment of that saying has been to our friend, in the family, in the church, and how glorious shall it be now to him in the Father's house on high." (Newspaper clipping.)

"For many years one of the most prominent, energetic and devoted workers in religious and temperance circles in our city (Chelsea) has been Mr. John J. Underhill, and it was natural that he should endear himself to all who were associated with him in his labors.

"Mr. Underhill has been confined to his home for several months and peacefully passed away last Saturday evening. He leaves a widow and three children, Miss Helen W. Underhill, Francis, a resident of Buffalo, N. Y., and Dr. Charles D. Underhill, of Boston. Mr. Underhill was born in Chester, N. H., in 1835. At the age of sixteen he entered the employ of the Tremont National Bank, Boston, and steadily won promotions until he was given the important and responsible position of teller. He was also engaged in the settlement of estates, either as a trustee or administrator. Mr. Underhill was a member and deacon of the First Congregational Church.

"Funeral services were conducted in the First Church, Tuesday afternoon. As the mourners entered the edifice and proceeded up the aisle, Rev. Lawrence Phelps, who led the line, read appropriate Scriptural selections, and later offered prayer.

"Rev. Dr. Plumb paid a simple and touching tribute to Mr. Underhill's long and useful career as a Christian, referring to three Sundays in his life, first when he entered his household; second, when he united with the Church (through Dr. Plumb's influence), and, third, last Sunday, his first Sunday in Heaven.

"Beautiful selections were rendered by the Church quartette. Mr. Phelps made brief remarks, stating that the last time Mr. Underhill was present in the church was at Hon. Rufus S. Frost's funeral. He also read an appropriate poem by Whittier, and the benediction was pronounced.

"Many beautiful floral offerings and palms were arranged about the pulpit."—(Gazette, Oct. 6, 1894.)

"It is with feelings of intense sorrow that the friends of John Jay Underhill will learn that on Saturday, after a long sickness, he gave up the battle of life which he had fought so nobly and so well.

"Perhaps no resident of Chelsea was held in higher esteem or more loved for their many good deeds than Mr. Underhill. In times of sorrow and suffering, his was the hand that was outstretched in sympathy, his the heart that beat in unison with trouble, no matter in what guise it came.

"For years he has been a familiar figure in Chelsea, where he lived nearly the whole of his long life, and he was known and loved by all with whom he came into contact.

"He was born at Chester, N. H., in 1835, and died at his residence, 17 John Street, Chelsea, Mass., at 9 o'clock Saturday evening.

"For forty-two years he has been connected in an official capacity with the Tremont National Bank of Boston, entering its employ as a boy at the age of 16 and winning the confidence and respect of the officials and patrons from the start until he was promoted to one of the most responsible positions. He was a great favorite with every one connected with the bank, and his presence will be keenly missed.

"He was senior deacon and member of the First Congregational Church, and on him devolved much of the routine work. He was looked upon as the right hand man of the organization, and his demise leaves a vacancy which will be hard to fill.

"He was prominently identified with all the charitable and philanthropic organizations, and besides carrying on the business of real estate and insurance, he was prominent, on account of his strict integrity, in the settlement of many estates as trustee and executor. He was always interested in politics as applied to good government, but was in no sense of the word a politician, and was a prominent member of the local council, Royal Arcanum, and also a member of the Congregational Club of Boston.

"He leaves a wife and three children to mourn his loss. Francis, the eldest son, is in Buffalo; Charles, a physician in Boston, whose attention and loving care of his father during his long sickness has been unremitting. The daughter, Helen W., resides at home.

"To Mrs. Underhill, the wife of the deceased, the blow is a particularly hard one, as she is in poor health as the result of injuries sustained by being struck by an electric car some years ago.

"John Underhill is dead; but the memory of his good deeds will live as long as life lasts in the hearts of his hosts of Chelsea and Boston friends."—(Newspaper clipping.)

"Helen Amelia Underhill, widow of the late John Jay Underhill, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John King Fish, at Milwaukee, Wis., March 28, 1910. She was born in Boston, Mass., March 7, 1835, her girlhood being spent in Revere, Mass. She was a graduate of the Hancock School of Boston and for many years sang in the Universalist Church in Chelsea. After a useful and active life she suffered a severe accident and for twenty years lived a life of pain and limitations from which she was released very suddenly after a happy, peaceful Easter. At Milwaukee the services were conducted by her former pastor, Rev. Judson Titsworth, who spoke with deep feeling of her devotion to her faith and her restoration from her prison house to her own noble self. Rev. Walter F. Greenman of the Unitarian Church of Milwaukee and formerly one of her Chelsea "boys," assisted Mr. Titsworth and told of her uplifting influence among the young and in whom her spirit still lives.

"The funeral was held from the First Congregational Church in Chelsea, Mass., of which she was a member for over 40 years and where she had been superintendent of the infant department and President of the Ladies Benevolent Society. Rev. Charles N. Thorp, the pastor, conducted the service."—(Newspaper clipping.)

599 Luther, died prior to April 11, 1887, in Manchester, N. H.

Arthur B. Underhill of Boston and his wife, Hannah M., conveyed property there, Oct. 14, 1865, to the Boston and Worcester R. R. Corp. (Suffolk County, Mass., Deeds, Liber 866, p. 62.)

Arthur B. Underhill early in life learned the trade of building locomotives in Manchester, N. H., where he was located until 1855. In 1859 he was appointed foreman of the shop of the Boston and Worcester Railroad in Worcester, and two years later became superintendent of the Lowell machine shops, but soon became Division Roadmaster of the Great Western Railroad, residing in Meadville, Penn. In 1864 he returned east as master mechanic of the Boston and Worcester road. In 1880 he became superintendent of the motive power of the Boston and Albany R. R., and removed to Springfield, Mass., holding this position until his retirement in 1893. During that period he solved the problem of getting more power by increasing the pressure of locomotives, his machines attracting wide attention from the railroad world. He also had supervision over the engineers and established a sort of civil service examination for their appointment, so that they were chosen from the firemen.

284 LUTHER M. UNDERHILL, son of (98) Flagg Temple and Mary (Brown) Underhill, was born July 13, 1836, and married in 1862, Emma, maiden name not given. They resided in Boston, Mass., where he died in 1872.

747 Florence, born June 18, 1880.

748 Della, born March 18, 1883.

749 Chester J., born June 10, 1885. A Baptist minister, pastor of the Washington Street Baptist Church in Lynn, Mass., in 1926. The following is taken from the Brooklyn Eagle of Oct. 27, 1918: "The Rev. Chester J. Underhill, formerly associate pastor of the First Baptist Church, is now at the very front with a regiment of marines, which fought at Chateau-Thierry, Belleau Wood, Soissons, and St. Mihiel. He went over with a regiment of motor mechanics, but when there was a call for chaplains with the fighting units he volunteered, succeeding a Catholic priest, whose health had broken down. Mr. Underhill has written to the Rev. Dr. Rivington D. Lord, with whom he formerly was associated. The letter was dated September 17, so he undoubtedly was in the St. Mihiel engagement.

"A while back word came to me," he writes, "that chaplains were much needed at the front. Some have been killed and wounded and many have broken down. I volunteered for front-line service and I have it—have it aplenty, too. I am with the marines. It was this second division that stopped the German rush on Paris and the regiment I am with was the 'center.' Chateau-Thierry, Belleau Wood, Soissons and last week St. Mihiel is the list of campaigns the regiment has fought. We are shocks troops and I guess the Germans have the outfit sized up about right. On the other hand, I find the boys a fine crowd. They are almost all very young and most of them are from the West.

"The chaplain's work is hard and trying. Besides being constantly on the move with only 30 pounds of equipment aside from what I wear allowed to me, I have to fight when we 'go over,' for the German has no respect for Red Cross, the chaplain's cross or anything else, and then bury the dead, aid the wounded, act as morale officer, etc., etc. If I had nerves I'd break, but I find I am stronger on the march than the average, and God didn't give me sense enough to be easily scared. But oh! it is awful sometimes. Our boys, though, are wonderfully plucky. In the hospitals they never cry aloud, only grit their teeth; on the battlefield they are only hard to manage because they are so brave and daring.

"Why a German officer recently captured cussed and swore because he said, 'You violate every rule and precedent of science in warfare. When machine guns open on you at close range you ought to stop and take cover, but you don't; you yell and give us the bayonet.' That is the truth, and because it isn't in the books to do that way Heinie can't figure it out.

"Oh those Huns—how I despise them. They, except their airmen, are arrant cowards. Nine-tenths of their opposition and damage they do us is by artillery. When our boys get to them they are craven, cowardly, cringing. They work their machine guns or rifles till they see it's getting dangerous to them, then whine 'Kamerad!' If they want to surrender we'll let them, but if they kill till the last minute and then think their lives will be spared they are mistaken—its cold steel then or the butt of an automatic."

Mr. Underhill concluded his letter with an appeal to the members of the First Baptist Church to supply him with funds to buy chocolate, cigarettes and tobacco for the boys when they are in the very front line, where, "unless we get into the hospital we never are in touch with the Red Cross," and "where no 'Y' secretaries are ever allowed to go." He explained that at one time the regiment he is now with was for thirty-four days on the extreme front where the chaplain was the only man that could help them. Steps were immediately taken to raise a fund in response to his request.

A. W. Underhill, residing at No. 95 Gates Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., March 17, 1887, and a member of the Matthews, Underhill & Co., teas, coffees and spices, at 197 Chambers Street, states as follows: "My parents came to this country about forty years ago and we have no relatives in America by the name that we are aware of. My father settled in Yonkers about that time and the majority of the family still remain there. I am one of thirteen children, eleven living."

His funeral was attended by Mrs. George W. Fleming, daughter of Edward and granddaughter of Edward of England, and Mrs. John K. LeBaron, a sister of Edward.

Scharf's History of Westchester County, N. Y., states that "the brewery establishment of Edward Underhill's Son, the only one of the kind in Yonkers, is located on Chicken Island. The business was begun by Edward Underhill, Sr., in a building on the same island which had been occupied by John T. Waring's hat factory. The first barrel of ale was brewed March 1, 1858. The building being partially destroyed by fire, the present one was erected and the business moved into it 1861. Changes in the proprietorship were frequent. The founder was succeeded by Henry & Co., who were followed by their predecessor. Then Wm. Jackson and Robert Edgar became partners with Edward Underhill, Jr., under the name of E. Underhill & Co. The two former retired, also Henry M. Underhill, who was also a partner, and left the firm name E. Underhill's Son."

Edward Underhill of Yonkers, N. Y., made his will Aug. 16, 1869, which was proven, Feb. 7, 1870, and recorded in White Plains, Liber 58, p. 576. Names wife, Ann and son, Edward, making them executors. Witnesses: Frederick A. Coe, of Yonkers, Carrie A. Mitchell, of White Plains.

His death was accidental, a gas heater which had been lighted and the flame extinguished being the cause of his death.

Edward Underhill died in Yonkers, N. Y., July 3, 1905, in his 59th year. The New York Tribune stated that his death removed "one more of what has been familiarly called The Old Guard" and that "ten years ago he and a number of other gentlemen were in the foremost ranks of all political and business movements, but today few of them are left."

The New York Times, in commenting on his death, states that "he was found lying in the street in front of 259 S. Broadway, Yonkers, suffering from a compound fracture of the skull, etc.; that his watch, jewelry and money were found intact and it is believed that he fell and struck his head; that he was recently a real estate dealer but formerly in the brewing business; that he had been an Alderman, Assessor and President of the Common Council, and an unsuccessful candidate for Mayor in 1888."

Eliza Amelia Underhill made her will May 16, 1907, which was proven Jan. 19, 1912, and recorded in White Plains, N. Y., Liber 176, p. 54. She mentions: Burial plot in Oakland Cemetery; daughters, Gertrude E. Underhill, Elsie H. Underhill, Dora U. Fleming; neice, Ruth Jackson; son, Arthur D. 13 Enid N.

Henry M. Underhill was associated with his brother, Edward, in the Yonkers Brewery, under the name of E. Underhill's Sons, but later went into the tea, coffee and spice business, in which he continued until his death. He was one of the organizers of the Yonkers Lyceum and an official in the Palisade Boat Club and served for a time in the local National Guard, but was transferred to the 7th Regiment, in which organization he finished his term of service. He was President of many organizations in Yonkers and held offices of trust in the town.

Henry M. Underhill of Yonkers, N. Y., made his will Dec. 29, 1883, which was proven Oct. 11, 1899, and recorded in White Plains, N. Y., Liber 133, p. 583. He mentions his wife, Julia H., making her executrix, and his children, minors, without naming them. Witnesses: Oliver W. Beals and J. C. B. Matthews, of New York City.

Julia H. Underhill of Tuckahoe, N. Y., made her will June 3, 1901, which was proven April 16, 1906, and recorded in White Plains, N. Y., Liber 152, p. 472. She mentions: Sons, Henry F. and Maynard C. Underhill; daughter, Enid N. Underhill, making them executors. Witnesses: Oliver W. Beals, Frank M. Gordon, Walter A. Spratt.

7 EDWARD MAYNARD UNDERHILL, son of (3) Edward and Eliza Amelia (———) Underhill, was born Feb. 13, 1873, and on May 22, 1907, his body was found in the Hudson River at Alpine, N. J. He was a member of the American Canoe Association and of the Yonkers Canoe Club, of which he served a term as Commodore. With a party, a week before, he left Yonkers for a day's excursion in his canoe, for the Jersey shore. All arrived safely but he. For several years he was treasurer of the Hope Hook and Ladder Company and was not married. Services were held in St. John's Church, Yonkers, and he was buried in Oakland Cemetery. At the time of his death he was manager of the Yonkers storage warehouses at 11 and 17 Ann Street.

8 GERTRUDE E. UNDERHILL, daughter of (3) Edward and Eliza Amelia (———) Underhill, was born June 2, 1874, and in April, 1927, was living in Cleveland, Ohio, holding the position of Curator in the Cleveland Museum of Art. She wrote that her mother was the daughter of Emma Maynard and that her sister, Dora Fleming, was born Oct. 13, 1876, and that she had another sister, Elsie Green, and a brother, Arthur D.

WILLIAM SHERWOOD UNDERHILL, married Jane D., daughter of Charles R. Dusenberry, who died in Tuckahoe, N. Y., Feb. 8, 1924, aged 94 years, 3 months and 4 days, who was the son of Charles and Sarah (Bowne) Dusenberry and resided at 995 Underhill Avenue, Colonial Heights, Yonkers. He was president of the Westchester Trust Company and for 30 years had been superintendent of the Sunday School of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Tuckahoe.

William S. Underhill may have been one of the thirteen children of Edward and Ann (Maynard) Underhill.

505 JOHN UNDERHILL, son of (146) (see Vol. 2, p. 139, of this publication) John and Deborah (Dickinson) Underhill, according to his son, was John E. Underhill, of Berne, N. Y. The son also states that John E. married twice and by his first wife had a son, John, and four others and believes one of them was Nancy Hoag of Cohoes, N. Y. His second wife was Lydia Rhinehart, and by her he had Sarah, who married a Montague; William H., of Cambridgeport, Mass.; Calista C., who married a Woollen and resided in Chicago; George E., born in Troy, N. Y., in 1842, and who furnished the above information. He stated also that his father owned property in Greenbush, N. Y., and died when he was 5 years old. George E., married Anna E. King, of Norwich, Conn., and had two daughters, Georgia, of Brooklyn and Helen C., who married John Jerman and in 1895 was residing in Bridgeport, Conn.

Sarah Elizabeth Underhill, daughter of John and Lydia Underhill, was born in Troy, N. Y., March 24, 1837, and married in Springfield, Mass., Dec. 11, 1857, Charles Howard, born N. Leverett, Mass., Nov. 10, 1836, son of Isaac W. Montague. She died in Cambridge, N. Y., Dec. 27, 1872.

A rough draft of the will of John Underhill, the father of John, No. 505, is owned by William H. Wanzer, of Burlington, Vt. In it he bequeaths his son, John, ten shillings. No date is furnished. He calls himself of Berne, N. Y., and names his wife, Deborah, and his children, Henry, John, Joel, Solomon, Hannah, Phebe, Esther.

1067 ABRAHAM SUTTON UNDERHILL (see Vol. 2, p. 441, of this publication) died at his home in East 63rd Street, New York City, Dec. 13, 1881, in his 74th year. He was born at No. 10 Cherry Street, near Franklin Square, March 4, 1807, and received his early education at the Friends' Academy and School in Pearl Street, opposite Hague. He became a member of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society, April 27, 1872, and that publication, Vol. 13, pp. 51, 52, states: "To him alone is this Society indebted for the entire unassisted labor of copying and transcribing the early records of the Society of Friends as published in successive numbers of the Record from October, 1872, to April, 1876. This work required the utmost care and closest observation and familiarity with the ancient handwriting and he, with his own hand and in his plain and legible chirography, faithfully produced a perfect transcript verbatim and literatum, purely as a labor of love, expressing himself as amply compensated by the pleasure it gave him to see these valuable records thus preserved and perpetuated in an enduring form."

(The following was received too late to be placed under the Descendants of Capt. John Underhill): Asa Upton Sutton, No. 2774, was the son of (1033) Isaac Sutton and (1129) Sarah (Underhill) Sutton, and was born Jan. 2, 1818, in Venice, Cayuga County, N. 19 FRANCES ALCENA WELLING, daughter of (4) Nathaniel and Jane (Tinsler) Welling, married Amos Bryan Banker and had Howard J. Banker, born April 19, 1866, in Schaghticoke, N. Y., who married in Aug., 1894, in Clifton Park, N. Y., Mary Eugenia, born Feb. 17, 1865, daughter of Rev. Henry and Mary E. (Shutts) Wright. No issue. In 1907 he was residing in Greencastle, Ind., having connection with the Depauw University and wrote that Eleanor Underhill, married in Ulster County, N. Y., March 18, 1781, as the widow of John Rodgers, Frederick Banker. She was born Sept. 4, 1762, and was without doubt the sister of Jemima Underhill, who married William Welling, but the editor has been unable to date to trace their Underhill parentage.

Eleanor Underhill married first John Rodgers; second, March 18, 1781, Frederick, born near Rhinebeck, N. Y., Aug. 13, 1758, died June 6, 1848, buried Episcopal Cemetery, Hyde Park, N. Y., son of Thomas and Anny (Nelson) Banker. He was a farmer and a Revolutionary pensioner. She died June 6, 1857, and is buried beside him. 1 LORENZO CUSHING UNDERHILL, son of David and Mary (Bradley) Underhill, was born in Springfield, Mass., Jan. 19, 1846. He married Amelia Wiltsie, born in Schoharie County, N. Y. He died May 13, 1907, at 50 St. Nicholas Place, New York City, and she on Jan. 23, 1921, aged 70 years. She was buried in Johnstown, N. Y.

Issue:

2 Lorenzo C., living in Flatbush, L. I., in 1927.

3 Harriette, born Troy, N. Y., died New York City, May 18, 1928, at 325 W. 45th Street.

4 Alice Amelia, married Crittenden Ross, a veterinarian, residing in Bloomingburg, Sullivan County, N. Y., in 1927. Issue: Harriette Ross. Alice A. states that her grandfather, David, had brothers, John and Warren; that Mary Bradley's mother was Mary Dais or Day; that her own father had a horse farm near Passaic, N. J., and was one time manager of the N. Y. Sportsman.

Harriette Underhill (3) was the motion picture critic of the New York Herald-Tribune and died May 18, 1928, at 325 West 45th Street. She had been a writer for twenty years. When 16 years of age and living in Passaic, N. J., she married Joseph Scanlon and removed to New York, but was soon divorced. She then went on the stage and toured the country with a Shakespearian Company and while playing in Mexico City, met and married and Englishman, who died shortly and she returned to New York. Her father had written sport and speedway notes for publications and after his death in 1907, she continued his work and in 1908 formed a permanent connection with The Tribune, finally devoting her time to being a motion picture critic. In 1919 she was run down and injured by an automobile, and the following year another accident of the same kind occurred, which impaired her health and compelled her to remain in her apartment, but she still wrote special Sunday articles. She married third, Gardner Youngman, from whom she was divorced.

Lorenzo C. Underhill, of New York City, died there intestate, May 13, 1907. Administrations, Liber 283, p. 491, dated May 22, 1907, shows he left surviving, widow, Amelia C., and children, Harriet, Lorenzo C. and Alice Underhill, all of age.

Lorenzo C. Underhill in 1901 stated that he was born in Springfield, Mass., and was son of David; that they moved to Cohoes, N. Y.; that his father died when he was young; that he never saw his grandfather, whose name was John, and lived in Troy; that he had an Aunt Nancy, wife of Warren Hoag, of Hoosack Falls, and an Aunt Mary Stiles of Cohoes, N. Y., and an Uncle John of Boonton, N. J., his father's brother; that he had a sister, Harriett Austin, who married a Dewey and lived in Johnstown, N. Y.; that his home address was Athenia, N. J.; that he formerly lived at 254 Eighth Street, Brooklyn, and 197 Tenth Street.

Certain notes about this family indicate close connection with the family of John Underhill, No. 505, in Vol. 2, page 139, of this publication.

ROBERT R. UNDERHILL married Ann, widow of James Bloomer of Plattekill.

March 6, 1828, Gilbert Kniffen, acting executor, and Robert R. Underhill and wife Ann, formerly Ann Bloomer, acting executrix and widow of James Bloomer, late of Plattekill, N. Y., convey to Wm. Roe of Newburgh. (Deeds, Orange County, H. H., p. 5.)

Marston, of Newburgh (Ibid. 41, p. 83); April 3, 1850, Bartow Underhill, of Royal Oak, Oakland County, Mich., conveys land in Newburgh, N. Y., to Daniel Carver (Ibid.: 106, p. 179).

April 13, 1832, Isaac Quackenbush, of New York City, to Bartow Underhill, of Brooklyn, N. Y., guardian and trustee of Mary Lockwood, wife of Cary Lockwood, only child of ———(?). (Deeds, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Liber 51, p. 208.)

Daniel Underhill, of Newburgh, N. Y., conveys property to James Markin, of Fishkill, N. Y., Sept. 22, 1860. (Deeds, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., 117, p. 663.)

April 26, 1877, Daniel Underhill, Daniel Willets, Henry T. Willets, John J. Willets and Samuel J. Underhill, of Queens County, N. Y., and Peter Aiken Skidmore, of Westchester County, N. Y., convey to Charlotte Moore, etc. Daniel Underhill's name is signed as executor of Samuel T. Underhill, deceased. (Deeds, Poughkeepsie, 187, p. 425.)

In 1871 the same parties convey to Charlotte Moore of La Grange. (Deeds, Poughkeepsie, 179, p. 454.)

On Feb. 8, 1866, by petition of Mary V. Willets, mother of Anna, Martha W., Jane R. and Matilda Willets, Daniel Underhill, as their guardian, conveyed property to Charlotte Moore. (Deeds, Poughkeepsie, 134, p. 82). The above connect in some way with No. 3654, Vol. 3, p. 907, of this publication.

Military Patents in Albany, Vol. 1, p. 138: To John Underhill, disbanded non-commissioned officer having served in the late war, 1,000 acres on east side of Lake Champlain. Oct. 7, 1765.

Deeds in Office of Secretary of State, Albany, N. Y., Liber 17, p. 226.

Power of Attorney: Jno. Underhill, late Corporal in his Majesty's 80th Regiment, appoints friend, Wm. Provoost, of New York City, his attorney, to receive from Cadwalader Colden a grant for 200 acres as per proclamation Dec. 5, 1764, then to assign same to Wm. Wilson, of New York City. Merchant. Dated Dec. 12, 1764.

(Ibid: 17, p. 239) Oct. 29, 1765, shows the above land to have been on the east side of Lake Champlain, etc.

ALEXANDER UNDERHILL was a well known contractor in Brooklyn, N. Y. In 1909 his wife, Cecilia F., at 78 years of age, was residing at No. 1033 Jefferson Avenue, Brooklyn. They had a son who married in 1898, Clara Dudley. He posed as a society man under the name of Dudley V. Berial. He soon got into trouble and when his wife applied for an annullment of the marriage, his parents sided with her and it was granted in 1909.

Cecilia F. Underhill was born in New York City, and died in Brooklyn, July 6, 1921, aged 89 years, at 132 Patchen Avenue. She had resided in Brooklyn for 25 years. In early life she was a Friend, but later became a member of the M. E. Church.

ADONIJAH UNDERHILL married Abbie Eliza, who died Feb. 10, 1923, in her 68th year, at her home, No. 1004 Herkimer Street, Brooklyn, N. Y. She was buried in Greenfield Cemetery, Hempstead, L. I.

ADONIJAH UNDERHILL married in the First Presbyterian Church of Hempstead, L. I., where he was a hotel keeper, Dec. 26, 1878, Eliza, daughter of John L. Suydam of Hempstead.

The following records are the earliest appearing in Maryland, showing a John Underhill there in 1649:

Vol. 2, p. 568. Patent Records, Land Commissioner's Office, Anapolis, Md. "This bill bindeth me, Capt. John Price, Muster Master General of Maryland, my heirs, executors or assigns, to pay or cause to be paid to John Underhill, his heirs, executors or assigns, the full and just sum of seven hundred and twenty pounds of good sound tobacco and well conditioned in leaf, etc., due to be paid at or before Nov. 10, next, the date herein, as witness my hand being Dec. 19, 1649."

St. Ann's Parish Church, Anapolis, Md., Vol. 1, p. 386, of Maryland Church Records, "Died, Aug. 8, 1715, Daniel Underhill, C. L. to the Man of War."

Peter Kain, late of Kent County, died intestate. Letters granted to John Underhill, Nov. 15, 1708. (Administrations, Vol. 1, p. 1.)

Jacob Neale, of Kent County, planter, conveys to John Underhill, of the same place, planter, a plantation on a branch of Worten Creek called Cabbin Branch, 100 acres. Dated June 24, 1708, recorded July 22, 1708. (Deeds, pp. 64-65.)

John Francis, farmer, leaves a tract on Cypress Branch for 10 years to William Underhill, May 28, 1772. Recorded Aug. 19, 1772. (Ibid. D.D., No. 4, p. 56.)

Joseph Underhill, late of Kent County, deceased. Letters to Margaret Underhill. Bond dated March 20, 1792, by Margaret Underhill, Benjamin Howard and Jno. Ryan. (Administrations, Vol. 7, p. 224.)

Michael Underhill, late of Kent County, deceased. Letters to Owen Whalen. Bond, Dec. 21, 1791. (Administrations, Vol. 7, p. 194.)

Michael Underhill, late of Kent County, deceased. Letters to Dorcas Underhill and Dr. Edward Worrell. Bond, Dec. 31, 1795. (Administrations, Vol. 7, p. 393.)

On April 21, 1829, John Underhill, signing by mark, conveyed the property Jacob Neale sold John Underhill in 1708, but calling it "Hill Top," to Simon Wilener for 5,468 pounds of tobacco. He gave 12,500 pounds of tobacco for it. (Deeds, J. S., p. 338.)

NOTE.—The preceding notes definitely place an Underhill family in Maryland in the early days and the probabilities are that the genealogical lines in Maryland and Virginia which follow are the descendants.

JOHN UNDERHILL, married Mary. She was buried Nov. 14, 1702, and he married second, Jan. 14, 1704, Sarah Lane.

Issue (by first wife):

William, born Dec. 12, 1699.

(by second wife):

Thomas, born Aug. 27, 1705; married Nov. 18, 1730, Rebecca Crowley.
Mary, baptised May 23, 1708.
Samuel, born March 10, 1713.
James, born Oct. 20, 1716.
Elizabeth, born Feb. 7, 1719.

(The above from St. Paul's Parish, Kent County, Maryland, p. 132.)

THOMAS UNDERHILL OF MARYLAND.

FIRST GENERATION.

1 THOMAS UNDERHILL, of Snow Hill, Md. His ancestry has been given in correspondence to a few of his line, as a descendant of Benoni Underhill. (See page 43 of Vol. 2.) All that is positively known of Thomas is what his grandson, Joshua J. Underhill, states.

It is claimed his wife was Leah Powell but Joshua J. does not mention her. The Benoni ancestry was sent to him and he copied it, but frankly stated he only knew as far back as his grandfather, Thomas.

Issue:

2 Elizabeth, married a Jones and a Lee. Resided in Baltimore, Md., and died in 1883.

\+ 3 Thomas Henry, born 1814.

\+ 4 William J., born Dec. 9, 1816.

5 Rachel, married a Johnson. In 1887 resided in Snow Hill, Md.

6 George.

SECOND GENERATION.

3 THOMAS HENRY UNDERHILL, son of (1) Thomas and Leah (Powell) Underhill, was born in 1814 and married in 1835, ———(?).

Issue:

7 A child, died in infancy.

8 Joshua Whittington, born June 11, 1837; a physician of Cincinnati, Ohio; married June 6, 1874, Eliza E., maiden name not known, and had Whittington, Nellie, Elsie and two other children.

Dr. Joshua W. Underhill, a professor at Cincinnati, Ohio, addicted to the use of drugs, died in that city "of unsound mind," and No. 34033 of the probate records there, dated Feb. 9, 1889, shows that citations were issued to Eliza E. Underhill and to Nellie, Eliza and W. T. Underhill, the latter three being of Cambridge, Ohio. He had a wife and children, probably the above.

Deeds, Liber 455, p. 445, show that on Oct. 3, 1885, he sold property as executor of the will of Helen A. Mullen.

Joshua W. Underhill died before Oct. 5, 1888, as per a foreclosure by Wm. Dunham, his executor, found in Deeds in Cincinnati, Ohio, Liber 680, p. 551, which shows he left surviving: Wife, Eliza E., and minor children, Whittington, Nellie and Eliza Underhill, and Liber 684, p. 232, states that his wife, Eliza E., died in Cincinnati, July 18, 1889.

Whittington Underhill made his will May 1, 1900, which was proven March 10, 1903, and recorded in Cincinnati, Ohio, Liber 87, p. 59. He mentions Fannie Valentine Sloan of Indianapolis, Ind., and made her executrix. Witnesses: Stanley Matthews, Rose Hughes.

4 WILLIAM J. UNDERHILL, son of (1) Thomas and Leah (Powell) Underhill, was born Dec. 9, 1816, probably in Snow Hill, Md. He married Dec. 1, 1842, Nancy M. Riggins, who died March 22, 1843; second, July 25, 1843, Nancy McCready. He died at about 42 years of age.

Issue:

9 George T., born Somerset County, Md., May 19, 1844, married Sarah Jane Clark, and died in Baltimore, May 6, 1886. They had one child, who died in infancy.

10 Joshua J., born Somerset County, Md., in 1845, married April 19, 1871, Emma Herrold, and had (1) Clara V., born Aug. 10, 1872; (2) Ida F., born Feb. 10, 1874; (3) Albert J., born Oct. 13, 1875; (4) Harry W., born March 10, 1877.

A letter from Joshua J., dated Sept. 4, 1886, Baltimore, Md., states he was the son of Wm. J. and grandson of Thomas; that his father died when about 42 years of age and that he stayed at home until about 20 years old, when he went to Baltimore, where he had been for 21 years; that his father had a brother, Thomas, who went away before he was born and was not heard from in many years; that this Thomas had a son living in Cincinnati, Ohio, Dr. J. W. Underhill, a physician, who was interested in family records; that "my father" has a sister living in Snow Hill, Md., Mrs. Rachel Johnson, who might be helpful, etc. He resided at that time at 99 N. Carrolton Avenue, Baltimore.

11 Arinthea, born July 2, 1847.

12 Hester Ann, born Dec. 28, 1848, died Sept. 16, 1869.

13 Irene, born July 28, 1850, died an infant.
14 Mary Emily, born April 29, 1855.

A letter written in 1887 by Joshua J. Underhill, of Baltimore, Md., is headed by a picture of Underhill's Wharf and shows that he was a planter and packer of "Baltimore Oysters and Shipper in Season of Foreign and Domestic Fruits."

The Maryland Historical Magazine, Vol. 21, p. 161, shows a William Underhill, a member of a Committee of Recommendation, which met in Snow Hill, Md., Apr. 18, 1794. He was a member of the Worcester County Militia.

ANOTHER MARYLAND FAMILY.

The father of one Abraham Underhill died on the eastern shore of Maryland as per his great-great-grandson, Jackson Underhill, residing in Mt. Vernon, Ohio, Feb. 10, 1905, who also stated that the children of Abraham were: Abraham, Joseph, John, Isaac, Mattie, Hannah, Susie and Sarah; that the son Abraham moved to Tennessee and settled between Nashville and Knoxville; Joseph went to Harrison County, Ohio, married and had Thomas and Sarah; John settled in Guernsey County, Ohio, married and had Samuel, John, Josiah and some girls; (see following) Isaac settled in Holmes County, Ohio, and had Isaac, "my father," and five daughters; "my grandmother was a cousin to Bishop Chase of the High Church of England"; that before locating in Ohio, the family resided in Washington County, Penn.

The following two letters show descendants of the above John who went to Guernsey County, Ohio. In 1893, Elizabeth A. Underhill, wife of Samuel Underhill, resided in Cherokee, Iowa, and wrote: "John Underhill, my father-in-law was born in Washington County, Penn., nine miles from Pittsburg. His father lived to be over one hundred years old and had never been sick, and his son, John, and daughter, Susan, lived on his farm and one day he was missing. My husband, Samuel Underhill, then 5 years old (1803) and his mother, went to look for him and found him dead. Then John and his family moved to Guernsey County, Ohio, with three boys and four girls, namely: Samuel, Elizabeth, John, Sarah Ann, Ella Jane, Josiah and Mary Betsey; Elizabeth married Jacob Forebush; John married Mary Wilson. The following is the Bible record of my husband and myself: Samuel Underhill, born in May, 1808, married June 28, 1832, Elizabeth A. Rolens. Issue: (1) Jotham, born Dec. 5, 1833, died Sept 13, 1854; (2) Jane B., born Aug. 25, 1835; (3) Nancy T., born April 30, 1837; (4) Amanda C., born Feb. 18, 1839; (5) William F., born Dec. 17, 1840; (6) Mary E., born June 7, 1843; (7) Anne E., born Aug. 1, 1845; (8) Samuel T., born Dec. 24, 1846; (9) George W., born Dec. 19, 1848; (10) Samuel J., born Dec. 1, 1850; (11) James M. C., born March 4, 1853; (12) John W., born June 12, 1855; (13) Louisa J., born Aug. 19, 1859; (14) Charles E., born Aug. 19, 1859. I have ten living children, five boys and five girls. I have grandchildren and great-grandchildren. I always heard that my husband's grandfather came from England. My husband died March 22, 1881. I was born May 7, 1817. All my living children are married and have children but John, he has none." Signed, Elizabeth A. Underhill.

In 1893 she writes that she lives on her income and has valuable coal land in Illinois called "Underhill coal farm in the big muddy coal mines." George Underhill, Murphysboro, Ill., "is my agent."

Charles E. Underhill, of Onawa, Iowa, writes as follows, Nov. 1, 1887, being an attorney-at-law in that town: "My father, Samuel Underhill, was born in Washington County, Penn. He had two brothers, John and Josiah, and several sisters. My father married Elizabeth A. Rolens. I have four brothers, William, George, Samuel and John, and five sisters, Jane, Nancy, Mary, Anna and Louise.

"My grandfather moved with father from Pennsylvania to Guernsey County, Ohio, when my father was a boy. In 1865 my father moved his family to Jackson County, Ill., and in 1876 to Cherokee County, Iowa. For further information address Elizabeth A. Underhill, Murphysboro, Ill."

JOHN UNDERHILL, of Cecil County, Md., married Ann ———(?), the latter being deceased prior to 23, 9, 1736. He married second, 23, 9 mo., 1736, at home of Wm. Brown, Sr., Anne, born 1, 10 mo., 1687, daughter of William Brown of East Nottingham, Penn., and widow of Robert Dutton. John Underhill died 24, 4, 1760.

Issue (order not known):

William, born Sept. 21, 172—(?) (St. Paul's Parish, Kent County, Md.)

Esther, married 16, 4 mo., 1736, in East Nottingham Meeting, Chester, Penn., Caleb Edmiston, and had 6 children.

Isabel, married 10, 9 mo., 1736, in the same Meeting, Samuel Edmiston. She died before March, 1760. 4 children.

Joseph, married 11, 9 mo., 1736, in same Meeting, Martha Oldham. He died before March 5, 1760, leaving son, John, and three daughters.

Elizabeth, married 5, 9 mo., 1741, in same Meeting, Henry Clark.

+ Thomas, married Elizabeth Norton.

John Underhill, of Cecil County, Md., made his will 5, 3 mo., 1760, in which he mentions the following heirs: Wife, Anne; son, Thomas, 300 acres upon which "I now live"; grandson, John Underhill, son of my son, Joseph, deceased; also Joseph's three daughters; six children of "my son and daughter, Caleb and Esther Edmiston; four children of my son and daughter, Samuel and Isabel Edmiston, deceased; two children of my son and daughter, Henry and Elizabeth Clark; grandson, William of Caleb and Esther Edmonson; grandchildren not of 22 years of age. Any differences to be settled by Quakers. Executors: Son, Thomas, and friend, Samuel England. Cecil County Wills, Md., Liber 31, p. 20. His wife, Anne, also signed.

THOMAS UNDERHILL, son of John Underhill of Cecil County, Md., married 23, 4, 1748, Elizabeth, buried 24, 6, 1753, daughter of Richard Norton of Charlestown, Md. They were married in public by Friends' Ceremony in the Quaker Meeting House, in East Nottingham, Chester County, Penn. The Underhill Society have a photograph of their marriage certificate, which among the witnesses besides his father and step-mother, Anne, only one other Underhill signs, namely, Martha. He died 6, 3 mo., 1811, aged between 92 and 93 years, per a family Bible. He evidently married second, 25, 7, 1754, in the Wilmington Meeting, Rachel, daughter of Joseph Robinson and widow of Joseph Mendenhall. She was buried 27, 7, 1798.

Issue (by first wife):

John, born 12, 2 mo., 1750, married 30, 10 mo., 1782, in White Clay Creek Meeting, Elizabeth, born 24, 2 mo., 1763, daughter of Robert and Mary Johnson, of New Castle County, Del. He died 8, 9 mo., 1785, and was buried in Friends' Ground in West Nottingham, Penn., and she married second at East Nottingham Meeting, on 3, 4 mo., 1788, Samuel Pennock.

Issue: (1) Mary, born 29, 8, 1783, married 16, 10, 1805, Humphrey Marshall. The records of the Londongrove Monthly Meeting of Friends, as found in the Pennsylvania Historical Society, state that "Humphrey Marshall of Bradford Monthly Meeting, Chester County, and Mary, daughter of John Underhill, deceased, and his wife, Elizabeth, declare intentions of marriage and on 11, 6, 1805, their marriage was reported." "Their daughter, Hannah, was the mother of Samuel Haines. (2) John, born 12, 6, 1785, died 16, 12, 1809."

(by second wife):

Thomas, died in Cecil County, Md., 1, 4 mo., 1806.

The following items are culled from the Cecil County, Md., Deeds, and certainly refer to the above family:

April 6, 1805. Estate of Samuel Gilpindt (?) to Thomas Underhill. (Liber 1, p. 4.)

June 14, 1809. Thomas Underhill, for love and affection, to Humphrey and Mary Marshall, and John Underhill, land in South Susquehanna Hundred, 587 acres. (Liber 1, p. 268.)

July 18, 1809. John Underhill to Humphrey and Mary Marshall of Pennsylvania, land in Cecil County, Md., called "Big Swamp," 124¾ acres. (Liber 1, p. 282.)

July 18, 1809. Humphrey and Mary Marshall to John Underhill, land called "Underhill Enlargement," bounded by land of Thomas Underhill, Senior and Junior. 354 acres. (Liber 1, p. 283.)

Aug. 21, 1823. George W. Shirk of Cecil County, Md., to Elizabeth Underhill of the same place, property called "Mullen's Reserve," in East Nottingham. (Liber 4, p. 406.)

NOTE.—John Archibald Underhill, of Wake County, North Carolina, was born in 1831, and wrote as follows: "I have heard my father, Giles, say that his father, William, died when he was a small boy, and that his mother married again, a man named Roy Robbert. I can recollect grandfather Roy putting his hand on my head and saying: 'John Underhill, named after his great-grandfather.'" The editor is quite convinced that the Sussex County, Va., Underhills and the Kent County, Md., Underhills are descendants of John Underhill named in statements which follow.

It has been stated that William Underhill, the father of Giles, born 1787, was the New Hampshire William, who married Abigail Choate, but as the New Hampshire Vital Records state that said William died there in 1780 and as Giles was born in 1787, and as John Archibald Underhill gives the statement that the grandfather of Giles was John and that the records of Maryland and Virginia furnish us a John and a William, it is difficult to definitely determine the pioneer ancestor of these families. On Jan. 14, 1887, Francis F. Underhill, of 929 Third Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., wrote Dr. John W. Underhill, of Van Wert, Ohio, as follows: "Giles Underhill was born in Sussex County, Va., and moved to Wake County, N. C., when about 25 years of age. He was the son of William, who lived in Sussex County, Va. No further knowledge has yet been obtained about him except that Alpheus J. Underhill of Louisburg, Franklin County, N. C., says that he heard his father, Giles, say that he had a brother, James, who died while a boy." A letter dated Aug. 12, 1910, Wendell, N. C., from Dr. H. P. Underhill, to D. Harris Underhill, states that his father was the youngest son of Giles, who moved to North Carolina from Virginia when a young man.

His records show they landed in New York or some northern port and then parted company, he going to Northampton County, Va., where in his latter days, he taught school and was looked upon as a learned man. He had four sons and a daughter who arrived at maturity. "All have been lost sight of excepting Amos, from whose writings this sketch is taken, who says he remembers his father receiving from his relatives in England at various times, plate, clothing, money, etc. At the death of Amos, his widow married Edward Mills and returned to England. Amos had three sons and a daughter, all dying young, but Thomas, who married Susan Evans, by whom he had several children, among whom was my grandfather, Thomas, who married and had several children, among whom was my father, Francis, born Aug. 13, 1825, the youngest child, and I am his oldest son."

Frederick Saunders Underhill was a member of the firm of Wistar, Underhill and Nixon, manufacturers and wholesalers of lumber in Philadelphia, Penn.

He states in a letter, undated, that when his sister, Clara, died, he took her two sons, Arthur B. and Marley, and her two daughters, and brought them up, but does not mention his sister's married name, but from certain other notes found in the Underhill material it is probable that the children were brought up under the name of Underhill.

The mother died when Arthur B. was about 1½ years old, but no dates furnished.

During the World War, F. S. Underhill was active in the Y. M. C. A., Red Cross War Chest and Liberty Loan. On the second Liberty Loan drive the manufacturers of Philadelphia organized an Industrial Committee subdivided into twenty-two groups and he served as Chairman of Group No. 17 in the second, third, fourth and Victory loans.

One Frederick S. Underhill, married in Landsdowne, Penn., Sept. 1, 1916, Hattie, daughter of John Macartney.

When Arthur B. Underhill finished his Senior year at Pennsylvania State College, he enlisted and went to R. O. T. C. at Fort Niagara, to try for a commission and qualified in all points except color distinction; he failed on the color test and was pronounced "green blind." He then enlisted in the Ambulance Corps at Allentown about June, 1917. Trained there and at Toby Hanna, Penn., and left there for embarkation Dec. 25, 1917, arriving in France Jan. 8, 1918. His unit was assigned to the French army and remained with it until the final effort of America placed his unit with the American Army, which served in the drive from Argonne to Sedan. At last reports he was at Soissons and Rheims, aiding the French to move back into those towns. (Letter from his uncle, F. S. Underhill, April 5, 1919.)

(Kane County, Ill., Deaths, Book 27, p. 628.)

Hazen Le Roy Underhill and his wife had Louise Margaret, born Elgin, Feb. 26, 1920. (Kane County, Ill., Births, Book 2, p. 247.)

George B. Underhill and his wife, Jennie, came from Illinois in 1891, and located at 784 Halsey Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., which they eventually owned. "Some twelve years ago (from 1927) he retired and their devotion to each other was noted by all their acquaintances. Once two neices came to see them from Illinois, staying several weeks. In the fall of 1926 she became bedridden and in June, 1927, the doctor told him his wife could not live long. On June 5, 1927, he placed a blanket on the floor of their living room and two pillows and lifted her from her bed on to them and kneeling by her side he shot her through the head. He then lay down by her side and slipped his arm under her head, pressing her close to him, and shot himself. On a neat pile on the table were bank books showing deposits of $50,000. In a note he asked that they be buried in one grave."

The only known relatives were a brother, Albert C. Underhill, of Hayti, Mo., and the latter's daughter, Mrs. James E. Young, of 1635 Monroe Avenue, Memphis, Tenn.

William Amos Underhill was born in Zanesville, Ohio, about 1833, and married first Pauline Fagg of Carolina. They resided in Springfield, Mo., where he was a tailor. They attended the Methodist Church. He married second, before 1881, Elizabeth Moberley, born Dec. 16, 1855, in Illinois, died in 1899 in Chicago and buried in Springfield, Mo.

Issue (by first wife):

Copy of a letter written Wm. R. Underhill, of Chicago, Ill., Jan. 21, 1926, by his step-sister, Rose Underhill. "Well, you ask me a hard question, when you want to know about our Granddady. You know we never heard of Daddy's folks except the uncle who raised him in Newton, Iowa, and from his picture you would think he might be his father. We used to correspond with them. I suppose they are dead by this time.

"Our father was born in Zainesville, Ohio, but I never heard him speak of his father or mother in my life. Was peculiar in some respects and that was one of them. He came here at the close of the Civil War and married Pauline Fagg, out on St. Louis Street, where I was born about a year later. When I was twelve years old, she died and then he married your mother.

"My mother was born down in Carolina but moved here when she was 9 years old. I don't even know what grandpa's first name was, but I do know Wm. Amos was born in Zainesville, O. Dad said once I was Welsh and Irish. My mother was Irish descent. I think the Underhills were originally Welsh."

Copied by Lucinda H. Underhill in 1928 for D. Harris Underhill.

John Underhill, born London, England, settled in Pennsylvania, where he married Hannah White. They removed to within a few miles of Guilford Court House, Carolina, where William, their son, was born.

Issue:

William, married Ruth Mather and removed to Tennessee, later to Ohio, then to Indiana, when a territory, but now where Richmond, Wayne County, is. They had son, James, who married Mary Houdyshell, and they had Martha Jane, who married James Hogan.

Above information from Peachy W. Bottom (Mrs. George A.) of Hobart, Okla., in 1920.

Enoch Phillips Underhill, a noted physician of Trigg County, Ky., married Betty K., maiden name not given. They had a son, John W., an editor in Conway, Ark., who died in 1907; his wife was Catherine E. Holland of Hickman, Ky., and her mother in 1909 was residing in Guthrie, Okla., at 87 years of age. In a letter dated July 19, 1909, from Samuel Edward Underhill, son of John W. and Catherine E. (Holland) Underhill, he stated that he was born March 14, 1881, in Hickman, Ky., but that his residence was in Charlotte, N. C.; that he was married in Norfolk, Va., Aug. 8, 1906, to Rosa L. Winstead, whose mother's Christian name was Addie S.; that he had a great-uncle, John W., residing in Bowling Green, Ky., and several aunts and uncles living in Kentucky; that he had a sister, Mary Dellard, living in McCrory, Ark., and adds, "There is a Charles F. Underhill, a druggist, in Norfolk, Va., who should be of interest, and my father's widow, Minnie F., of Conway, Ark., should join the Underhill Society."

Letter from S. Edward Underhill of the firm of Mass and Underhill, Washington, D. C., 4, 6, 1911, regarding his ancestry. It is headed "Ancestors of Samuel E. and Mary K. Underhill" and reads as follows:

"Our great-great-grandfather, Abraham Underhill, and his wife, Rachel Phillips, were married in Wales, and early in 1700 came to Pennsylvania and settled between Big and Little Allegheny Rivers, close to where Pittsburgh now stands. They had to burn turf to cook. Our great-grandfather was born there and also four great-grandaunts and one granduncle. When Tennessee opened for settlement they all moved to Wilson County, Tenn. There our grandfather, Enoch Phillips Underhill, was born, Oct. 26, 1822. Our grandfather's grandmother was a Petty, of Scotch-Irish descent. His mother was Margaret, daughter of Wm. Stroud, who was born and raised in Ireland. The Strouds and Pettys came to N. Carolina, Orange County, in 1700, and when Tennessee was opened settled in Cannon County. On our mother's side, our great-grandfather was Abraham Hall and his son married Mary Catherine Trizzell, our grandmother. Our father was son of Enoch Phillips Underhill and named John Wm. Underhill. He married April 12, 1877, Elizabeth Catherine Holland, born March 9, 1858, died 1882."

Michael Underhill of Chestnut Street, Morristown, N. J., in 1899, states that he is a son of William Underhill, who was born in Devonshire, England, and died at 65 years, leaving four boys and one girl. "I was born in this country."

W. T. Underhill, when the U. S. Census of 1850 was taken, was living in Galen, Wayne County, N. Y. It states he was a laborer, 65 years of age, and born in England; that he had wife, Elizabeth, 61 years of age, also born in England, and son, Samuel C., a cabinet maker, 18 years old, born in New York State.

Edward Underhill, of Wheeling, Cook County, Ill., made his will March 29, 1877, and died Jan. 2, 1879. The will was probated Jan. 10, 1879, the executors being widow, Susannah M., and John Buckland, another one, Joseph N. Olmstead, not qualifying. Witnesses: Elijah A. Allen, of Dunston, Ill., and John Woodbridge, Jr., of Chicago.

Codicil mentions that a son, Edward, had been born and died since the will was made, and it is stated that a daughter, Eda E., was born since his death.

The executrix (?) was charged with theft and indicted. Petition for probate recites that the widow resided at Arlington Heights, in Wheeling, and that his real estate was derived in 1846 from U. S. Letters Patent and was by deed from Caleb Lamb and wife, Harriet, May 31, 1845. Proof states he was between 70 and 80 years of age.

(Cook County, Ill., Wills, Docket 1, p. 264, and Files.)

Elnathan Underhill, born in New York in 1757, married there a Brower, and later went to New Brunswick, and in 1825 to Port Ryerse in Ontario, where he lived, dying there in 1842. He had brothers, Philip and Jasper, and sisters, Sarah, Patty and Tamar. The son Jasper married Hannah Oaks in 1824 and died Aug. 24, 1841, and had issue: Sylvester, born March 9, 1825; James, born Feb. 2, 1827; Elizabeth, born Oct. 16, 1829; Samuel, born Sept. 15, 1831, lived in Jarvis, Canada, in March, 1887; Rachel, born Sept. 24, 1833, Isabella, born Sept. 24, 1834; Mary Ann, born Aug. 15, 1836; Jasper, Aug. 26, 1841.

Others named but relationship cannot be definitely determined.

James Underhill: Charles H. Porter, of Boston, Mass., in a petition, dated July 24, 1903, shows that Edwin Underhill, born July 12, 1883, of Boyd, Wasco County, Oregon, was the son of James Underhill, of that place, deceased, and his wife, Gippie, now of said place, and asks that he be appointed guardian of said Edwin, who has property in Suffolk County. Granted, Sept. 10, 1903. (Suffolk County, Mass., Probate Records, Liber 834, p. 425.)

James Underhill, of Boston, Mass., made his will March 8, 1875, which was proven May 10, 1875, and recorded in Suffolk County Probate files, No. 56990. He mentions: Wife, Catherine, leaving her a house and lot at 611 Third Street, Boston; daughter, Elizabeth Ann; son, James. Executors: Wife and daughters. Petition for probate dated April 5, 1875, shows that he died March 20, 1875.

James Underhill received land from the City of Boston, March 26, 1861, which he sold on May 4, 1861, to Peter Ross, of Boston, plumber. (Suffolk County Deeds, Liber 797, pp. 242-243.)

Mrs. Elysabeth Underhill died in Hotel Brandon Hall, in Brookline, Mass., Sept. 25, 1926, in her 88th year. Her obituary notice asks Chicago papers to copy.

"She was a distinguished scholar and teacher; one of the great Dante students of the country and a lecturer on the Greek tragedies as well as upon the modern drama; her teaching life was spent in Chicago where she was the head of the art and literature department of the Loring School; she made yearly pilgrimages to the art galleries of Europe to enrich her courses on the history of art.

"Retiring from her teaching activities she made her home in Brookline, Mass., to be near her brother, Frederick W. Clarke. Her nearest surviving relatives are her neices, Mrs. Arthur Fairbanks, Mrs. C. Otto Zerrahau, of Boston, Mrs. Walter Bradley, of St. Louis, and her nephew, Stanley Clarke, of St. Louis. She was a charter member of a group of intellectuals, who assembled themselves under the name of The Fortnightly. She was also a life member of the Chicago Woman's Club."

Letter from Bertha G. Knight Kimball, of 2057 West 99th Street, Cleveland, Ohio, 1918:

"Sir William Underhill. His son William had three wives, the second one was Margaret Wright, the third wife also Margaret Wright, the two wives being cousins. William had 4 sons, one by the first wife and three by the second, and also three by the last wife, who also had six daughters named Mary, Rachel, Betsey, Rebecca, Jane, Nancy. He also had a daughter by his first wife named Mary who married a Jourden of Kent County, Delaware.

"Of the above daughters, Nancy married Joseph Carter; Jane married Christen I. Nogle; Rebecca married Noah ———(?), who came from Kent County, Delaware or New Jersey; Betsey married Abram, brother to Joseph Carter; Rachel married Joe Horton. She was my mother's grandmother and married Wm. Underhill, her cousin, and was Joe Horton's second wife and mother of Wm. Underhill, born April 25, 1796. William Underhill, Sr., was in the Revolutionary War. The sons of William the second were William and Thomas, married Mary Fitz-Jerls; his third son never married.

"Richard J. Underhill was a grandson of William the second; John Underhill was son of William and grandson of William the second, and was a prominent Baptist preacher. William Underhill, son of Sir William, came to America between 1730 and 1750. William, his son's, last two wives were the daughters of Anthony Wright, whose wife was Mary Rogers, kidnapped from England when a mere child. After William Underhill died his wife, Mary, married Joseph Horton, Rachel's husband. Mary's first husband, William Underhill, was born March 27, 1812, and he is the father of Mary and Margrett Underhill, now living in Big Boon, Kentucky. Post office is Beaver Lick, Ky. He died July 24, 1876, aged 64 years, 3 months, 27 days, and is buried at Big Lick, Boon County, Ky. He was my mother's second cousin.

"Margrett Wright was the last wife of William Underhill the second. Rachel Underhill, wife of Joe Horton, had 3 children, William, Nancy and John. William married Liza Angleton, my mother's sister; Nancy married Christfer Angleton, my mother's father; John married Pollie Underhill, daughter of Thomas Underhill, my mother's own aunt or this was mother Martha Angleton Knight, daughter of Christfer Angleton. William Underhill was in the Battle of Lexington in the Revolution. He was over a hundred years old when he died about 1814 or 1813. He moved from Delaware to Pennsylvania. His last child by his second wife, Mary, was Pollie, born in Pennsylvania.

They moved to Boon County, Ky., in 1799, she staying back in Delaware. His first child by his first wife was Mary or Pollie, her mother's name not known. William Underhill, the second, was a brother to Rachel Underhill Horton, Joseph Horton's first wife. Pollie Underhill Horton was his second wife and her first husband was William Underhill.

"The writer, Bertha G. Knight Kimball, of 2057 West 99th Street, Cleveland, Ohio, married Edward H. Kimball, son of Henry T., of Bridgeport, Conn., the latter the oldest engineer on the Rock Island R. R. Edward H. Kimball served 28 years for the Lake Shore as bookkeeper at Toledo, Ohio, where we were married in 1890. He died Feb. 27, 1892, and was buried beside his father and mother in Bridgeport. They have a tomb." (The above is a copy of the letter but relationship of the parties not clear to the editor, as there was no punctuation.)

This letter is followed by one written by Margaret Underhill May 6, 1918, to her cousin, Bertha Kimball, as follows: "* * * I am awfully lonesome since Joe went away. Your great-grandfather, your mother's grandmother, was Rachel Underhill. My grandmother's sister, Rachel, married Joseph Horton. She had 3 children, 2 boys and 1 girl, Nancy, and she was your mother's mother. Your grandmother's and Rachel's father's name was William Underhill. Your mother was Nancy Horton's child. She married Christopher Angleton. Your grandmother, Nancy Horton, was my grandmother's niece, and when Rachel Horton died my grandmother married Joseph Horton, her brother-in-law. My father was Polly Horton's son and your mother was Nancy Angleton's daughter, so your great-grandmother was Rachel Underhill. My grandfather was William Underhill. My grandmother and Rachel were sisters and both married Joseph Horton and they were both daughters of William Underhill."

Another letter states "Nancy Horton, daughter of Joseph Horton and Rachel Underhill, married Christopher Angleton and had a daughter, Martha, who married James Knight and in 1850 emigrated to Leesbury. I am the daughter of said Martha and James." Bertha G. Kimball.

Letter from Hattie L. Eaton, 10 Blackwood Street, Boston, Mass., Feb. 18, 1909, to D. Harris Underhill:

"Can you give me any information of a family of Underhills who formerly lived in Aylesford, County Kent, England? They were there in 1808 and perhaps later. At that time the family consisted of a mother and two sisters, Rebecca and Sarah. The rest of the family were sons, married and living in different places. Their names were: John Walter, Thomas, James, Stephen, Joseph.

"The father had passed away. I am mistaken about the sister, Rebecca, living at home; she had married John Cochrane of Edinburg, Scotland.

"This family was quite a large one and it seems as if they ought to be traced.

"John Walter Underhill was my mother's father. He came to this country and settled in Philadelphia, later in Albany, N. Y. He passed away suddenly while getting ready to return to England to see his people and also to claim money which had been left him by will. This money has never been recovered. Would it be there still awaiting the heirs? We have a letter which speaks of the will and the money waiting for him." * * *

In another letter she states her grandfather, John Walter, was son of John, who died Jan. 5, 1808, in Aylesford, England, and she thinks her grandfather died in 1831; that the son, Thomas, resided in East Mawling, England; the daughter, Sarah, in Aylesford, England; son, Stephen, in Portsmouth, England; son, Daniel, in Aylesford, England; son, James, in Goudhurst, England; son, Joseph, in Stroud, England; daughter, Rebecca, in Edinburg, Scotland.

Willard B. Underhill and Margaret S., his wife, of Syracuse, N. Y., on July 16, 1894, convey to Mary A. Underhill, one-half of certain land there. (Deeds, Onondaga County, N. Y., Liber 310, p. 251.)

William Underhill made his will in Chicago, Ill., Oct. 27, 1891, which was proven Feb. 3, 1894. Petition shows he died in that city Jan. 14, 1894, and left his wife, Ann, only heir at law. (Cook County, Ill., Wills, No. 12 R, Box 5916, Docket 33:102.)

William Underhill, of Morristown, N. J., made his will Sept. 29, 1888, which was proven Oct. 31, 1888, leaving all his estate to his wife, Alice. Witnesses: John Henry Johnson and John E. Fennell, the former to be executor. (Trenton, N. J., No. 6768 N.)

Wm. Underhill married Phebe Tappan, Dec. 13, 1837, in Oyster Bay, L. I.

William Underhill died in Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 1, 1920, at 291 Eighth Street, aged 71 years. Funeral at Fred Herbst and Sons Mortuary Chapel. Interment Greenwood. Member of Greenwood Lodge, No. 569, F. & A. M. Masonic funeral.

William Underhill married in 1840, Barbara A. G. Drew, born near Utica, N. Y., Dec. 18, 1818, died July 2, 1901. For 80 years she lived in the vicinity of Medina, N. Y. They both had Scholarships in Syracuse University and Lima Seminary and gave largely towards educational lines; also to the Freedmen's Aid and all great causes of the church. She was a teacher in the Sunday School. Wm. Underhill, "verging upon ninety" (1901) "rests under the shadow of the Almighty and feels safe." They donated a bell to the church in Medina (Christian Advocate). They had an only daughter, who married W. R. Rowlands and died at the age of 22 years.

Barbara A. G. Underhill named an orphan Phebe Drew in memory of her mother and supported her in India many years.

William Underhill died at his home in East Williamsburgh, Newtown, L. I., Nov. 14, 1873, in his 91st year.

Mary Underhill, of New York City, made her will Oct. 2, 1835, which was proven Sept. 10, 1844, and recorded in New York, Liber 90, p. 177-old. She mentions: Daughter, Maria Ann Tompkins, wife of William Clark. Executors: Son-in-law, Wm. Clark, and brother, William Underhill, of Newtown, L. I. Witnesses: Edward Leverich and Andrew Bragau.

Maria Ann Tompkins was born June 20, 1811, and married, June 20, 1833, William Clark. They had issue: Sarah Augusta, born June 4, 1834; Matilda; Henry; Kate M.; Jennie; Charles; Frances.

Sarah Augusta Clark, daughter of William and Maria Ann (Tompkins) Clark, was born June 4, 1834, New York City, and married there Dec. 26, 1852, Nicholas, born June 13, 1832, Providence, R. William Birdsall Underhill married Lisabeth Jarvis Caton, daughter of Richard Caton of Catonsville, Md. She died at her home, 1299 St. John's Place, Brooklyn, N. Y., March 9, 1924, aged 70 years, and was a widow. Had daughter, Lillian.

William C. Underhill died intestate, Dec. 15, 1886, in Hyde Park, Cook County, Ill., and left a voucher for money deposited in a savings bank in Brooklyn, N .Y., being a legacy left him by his deceased granduncle. He left surviving him as his only heir and next of kin, his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Haviland, of Hyde Park, Ill. Letters of Administration were granted June 10, 1887, to Frederick W. Clarke. The deceased was a minor and his name was entered on the books of said bank as William Henry Underhill, one of the heirs of R. T. Underhill, and as son of William H. and Elizabeth Underhill. (Cook County, Ill., Wills, No. 2 R, Box 3482, Docket 13, p. 38.)

Rev. William H. Underhill, pastor at Vanderbilt and Berryville, Mich., died in the former place in 1904.

Elizabeth M. Underhill died in New York City, April 1, 1888, intestate, leaving husband, William H., residing at 154 W. 122nd Street, and daughter, Frances Stepath, who were appointed Administrators, Dec. 28, 1900.

William Mason Underhill married April 23, 1919, at Christ Church, Greenwich, Conn., Phoebe Josephine, daughter of Mrs. Eunice Porter Schenck.

William P. Underhill, of Brooklyn, N. Y., enlisted in the Civil War for 3 years, Dec. 15, 1863. Aged 25 years. 84th Infantry, N. Y. V.

William S. Underhill was survived by wife, Elizabeth B., who died in New York City, Jan. 4, 1895, in her 75th year. In her will she mentions her nephews, Edward P. Arthur and Elbert Floyd-Jones, leaving to their honor the establishing of a Protestant Episcopal Church in New York, its seats to remain free forever.

William T. Underhill and wife, Elizabeth, of Rose, Wayne County, N. Y., conveyed land to Solomon Allen on Dec. 16, 1848. (Deeds, Wayne County, Liber 45, p. 54.)

May 6, 1852, William Thomas Underhill and wife, Elizabeth, of Galen, N. Y., conveyed land to John W. Dickinson. (Wayne County, N. Y., Deeds, 80, p. 359.)

William T. Underhill was married Feb. 10, 1821, by Rev. Aaron Hunt of the John Street M. E. Church, New York City, to Emma Underhill.

William W. Underhill was married Jan. 12, 1918, in Glendale, L. I., by Rev. Robert R. Greenwood, pastor of the Noble Street Presbyterian Church, at the home of the bride, to Ingred Hansen, of 125 Edsall Avenue. He was a seaman on a U. S. merchant vessel and resided at 108 Meserole Avenue.

Mary Anna Underhill, widow of William W. Underhill, formerly of Brooklyn, N. Y., died in Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 19, 1909.

William J. Underhill was married in June, 1886, by Rev. E. Folsom Baker, of the Episcopal Church, in Cold Spring Harbor, L. I., to Clara Mason, daughter of Dr. James Mason, deceased, who resided in Oyster Bay and New York City. She was 24 years of age and he twenty. They were both musical and their acquaintance in the church choir led to their marriage. The newspapers of the day devoted great space to the marriage because of the difference in the social affiliations, he being evidently a man of all work, from digging clams, driving a stage, or singing baritone in the church choir, and she having social distinction. His mother kept a little fancy goods store in Oyster Bay and lived over it and there he returned with his bride.

In 1910, W. J. Underhill and his wife, Clara, were among the claimants summoned as defendants in the noted Hammersley will case.

William John Underhill married in Miramichi, N. B., in 1877, Rebecca, daughter of Charles Delano, and died in 1887.

NOTE.—The following letter, written Dec. 17, 1928, but not seen by the editor until May 7, 1931, from F. S. Stoepel, of 30 East 42nd Street, New York City, shows additions and corrections to No. 2779 on page 804, Vol. 3, of this publication.

"Nehemiah Merritt Sutton married Mary Elizabeth Satterthwaite. Their daughter was my mother, Anna R. Sutton, born May 3, 1858. She married my father, Frederick Christopher Stoepel, July 13, 1881. I was born April 26, 1882. My full name is Frederick Sutton Stoepel. I married Iorantha Semmes, of Memphis, Tenn., December 27, 1906. We have five children, as follows: Mary Anne Stoepel, born Nov. 29, 1908; Iorantha Jordan Stoepel, born Aug. 18, 1911; Ellen Semmes Stoepel, born Nov. 25, 1912; Fredericka Josephine Stoepel, born Sept. 16, 1919; Frederick Christopher Stoepel, born Feb. 9, 1922.

"Margaret Ballantyne lives at 599 Lake Shore Drive, Grosse Pointe, Michigan, which is a suburb of Detroit, and is my first cousin. Her mother was Mary Arminda Sutton, my mother's only sister. I would suggest you write to her, for she will be glad to join the Underhill Society. She has two sons and will give you the information on them. She has two sisters and one brother. One sister is Anne Williams, who lives at 522 Rivard Boulevard, Grosse Pointe, and the other sister is Grace Hodges, who lives at 53 Kenwood Avenue, Grosse Pointe. The brother, James Wilson, has had some lung trouble and at present is at Colorado Springs, Colorado. He is not married. This accounts for all the descendants of Nehemiah Merrit Sutton, except my brother, Ralph Stoepel, who lives at Birmingham, Michigan, which is a suburb of Detroit.

"A son of Marsha Sutton Sedgwick, who is Richard Sedgwick, is with the Brookmire Economic Service, 551 Fifth Avenue. His mother was the daughter of David Sutton, who lived at Richmond, Ind. He was a brother of my grandfather. Richard Sedgwick can give you the information on his two uncles, David Sutton, who lives in Boston, and Howard Sutton, who lives somewhere in Ohio. Marsha Sutton Sedgwick is now dead. She had two daughters besides the son, Richard. He can furnish you with the information on them as well as the uncles. This constitutes all the descendants of David Sutton, with the exception of the children of each of the above.

"There is a Tom Mead, who is New York representative of the Chicago Daily News, 110 East 42nd Street. His father is Richard Mead, whose mother was Elizabeth Sutton. She was a sister of Townsend Sutton. I am not sure, but am under the impression they were the son and daughter of Asa Sutton; at least their father was a brother of Nehemiah M. Sutton. The Townsend Sutton family are living in Cascade, Montana. They have three sons and one daughter. I have not seen any of them for several years, and know very little about them.

"There is a Frank Sutton living at Tecumseh, Michigan. He is a son of Charles Sutton. Charles was my mother's first cousin, and his father was a brother of my grandfather, but which one of the Suttons was his father I cannot remember. I think his sister married Ben Swan, who is the father of Fred Swan, whom you mentioned when I talked with you. Fred Swan at present is living in Brooklyn, but I am not able to give you his exact address. Frank Sutton and his children are the only descendants through that branch of the Sutton family. He was an only child of Charles Sutton.

"Edward Sutton, who was a son of Edward Sutton, my grandfather's brother, died about three years ago. He married Helen Diehl of Pittsburg. They have one daughter, Virginia Sutton. She lives with her mother at 824 N. St. Clair Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa. She is the only living descendant of Edward Sutton.

"My mother could probably give you considerable family history, if you should want to check it up, on any of the members of her branch of the family, and Margaret Ballantyne has some family records. Mother can be reached at Parkstone Apartments, 1415 Parker Avenue, Detroit.

"I should like very much to see the copy of the marriage certfiicate of Sarah Underhill Sutton. I do not know who holds the original of this, as she had eight sons and one daughter, and over half of them were married and had children."

Ann Griffin (No. 2819, Vol. 2, p. 476) born 26, 8, 1814, married Dec. 2, 1840, Egbert Foster, and had Caroline, who married Foster Moorhouse, and they had George H. Moorhouse, of the Hotel Endicott, New York City, in 1931.

Jacob Griffin (No. 2820), brother of above Ann, married 12, 2 day, 1840, Martha M. Fleet.

A letter from Fannie M., wife of John O. Carter, written May 3, 1929, at Welden, N. C., mentions the following:

"There is an old Underhill Bible that my mother had and I now have same, in which there are several births and deaths recorded of the Underhill family. There is much of this Bible tho' that is not legible (from age) and some of the records have been torn out, yet there is considerable that can be read, but not knowing the different connections and as stated to you in my first letter, my mother did not know very much of her father's people, her mother died when she was an infant and her father when she was nothing more than a small child, she was raised by her maternal grandmother. My mother has been dead since I was a small child and what she did know has passed on, except a little gathered here and there.

"My mother was Mary Fannie Underhill who was born in Halifax, N. C., on Sept. 8th, 1861. She was married to my father, George W. Shearin, on May 10th, 1882. (License issued at Halifax, N. C.) I am a child of this union.

"My mother was the daughter of William Henry Underhill (born Aug. 11th, 1824), and Olivia G. Webb, who were married Sept. 15th, 1859. Of this union there were only three children, two infant sons died and my mother, Mary Fannie Underhill.

"My grandfather, William Henry Underhill, was the son of John B. Underhill and Frances Yarbrough, who were married Dec. 19th, 1821, place is not given. Of this union the first child is recorded as Elizabeth Frances Underhill, born July 17th, 1823, no further record is given of her. William Henry Underhill (my grandfather) is recorded as next, born Aug. 11th, 1824. My mother and her children as stated, are her children, are his descendants. The next child recorded is John G. Underhill, born Oct. 25th, 1826, and here ends his record; nothing further is known of him. After this record in this old Bible, it is so worn and dim that you cannot read further, but every indication is that there were more children of this union (John B. Underhill and Frances Yarbrough) but it cannot be read. Since neither the death of this daughter, Elizabeth Frances, or son, John G., are recorded, I am wondering if they did not marry and have descendants somewhere today.

"In another place in this old Bible there is recorded the birth of John B. Underhill, February 5th, 1793, this evidently must be the same John B. Underhill referred to above, the father of these three children, Elizabeth Frances, William Henry (my grandfather), and John G.

"I am unable to say even, where my grandfather was born I only know that he married my grandmother (at her home in Halifax, N. C.) and there lived where my mother was born in 1861. While these births, deaths and marriages are recorded in this old Bible none of them state where they took place. We have always had the impression that my grandfather came from the New England States, or, in fact, his father did because before and during the Civil War he was known to receive a Northern newspaper (when they were allowed to come through) and seemed more inclined to be in sympathy with the Union. Also he spoke of some relatives in Boston, Mass. An old friend of my mother's who died some years ago, said that he always said he was a direct descendant of Capt. John Underhill (I am not even familiar with this man's history, about all that I know is that he was famous in some of the old Indian Wars). I would like to know where I could get the life of Capt. Underhill."

Simon Underhill testified in Boston in 1671, stating that he was 33 years of age, but no other trace of him has been found.
